The Dream

Dreams of all kinds are as old as man himself. Mostly they consist of fabulous wishes for the future, are common to all people in all walks of life, and come in all sizes and ages. The student dreams of getting on the Gold Honor Roll; the office worker dreams of getting a promotion; and the whole community gets together and dreams of something that will improve what they already have. Such was the case here in the Cicero-Berwyn area for some time. Notwithstanding that Sterling Morton was one of the biggest and best high schools in the country, with an unusually fine teaching staff and above average students, our school had one glaring fault: it was crowded. The double shift did not give students a chance to really become a part of the school flow. With the addition of the west branch, the dream of the Cicero-Berwyn area has come true, giving us a chance to go on building dreams for the future on this sturdy foundation.

The 1959 edition of the Mortonian Annual is dedicated to Mr. Allen R. Moore

In his capacity as superintendent of Morton for the past six years and as assistant superintendent before that, Mr. Allen R. Moore has done the fine job possible only of a man of great character and interest. It is for this reason that we, the students of Morton, thank him and show our appreciation by dedicating this yearbook to him.

Mr. Moore began his teaching career in Rosedale, Indiana. He taught there for two years, 1913 and 1914, and then went into the service. Afterwards he taught at Champaign, Illinois, prior to coming to J. Sterling Morton in September of 1923.

He became assistant superintendent July 1, 1941, under Superintendent MacLean. He was appointed to his present post of superintendent in July of 1953.

Mr. Moore received his Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Illinois, majoring in physics and general science. He received his Master of Science degree at the University of Chicago. He and his wife now reside in Berwyn and have one son, a doctor practicing in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Here, on the Twenty-fifth Street side of Morton East, we find an excellent example of the busy corridors and stairways characterizing the Morton scene between classes.

A familiar scene at Morton East is this one in front of the Dean's Office. Lost and found and attendance records among other things keep it busy.

Murals and glass walls make eating in the Morton West cafeteria a pleasant experience. Hot lunches and milk are served in this modern, relaxing atmosphere.

With the advent of the standard schedule, supervised study halls like this one in the east cafeteria were set up for the benefit of Morton students.

In our new field house track meets and basketball games take place with ample space for spectators and cheerleaders. The up to date facilities enable Morton athletes to play at their best.

A swimmer's delight, our big, new west branch pool hosts the Morton Swim Club and sectional swim meets in addition to ordinary Red Cross swimming classes.

Large and useful, the west branch library provides a quiet place for student study. Reference books as well as fiction can be found for either light or serious work.

The main entrance plaza at Morton West provides a practical example of the utilitarian beauty idea used as the keynote of the architecture in the new building.

The Four Preps entertain for the PTA Benefit Show with their songs and antics

Bea Nemfaha, who graduated first in the Class of '58, addresses her classmates on graduation day

The senior cabinet skit, a take-off on the Steve Allen show, was one of the funniest possible assemblies presented to the JSM student body

Social activities at Morton round out the student schedule. Everything from annual dances to special assemblies provides entertainment for everyone. The two formal dances, the Christmas dance and the spring prom, are looked forward to months before they actually take place. Special events in between take the forms of hops and assemblies. The PTA Scholarship Benefit Assembly, for instance, pleasantly surprised the entire school by presenting the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra and the Four Preps.

Social Events

Dancers forget their problems on the dance floor of an after-game sock hop

Student aides help keep things running smoothly at the Morton West Dean's Office

The main entrance plaza of Morton West is one of the most beautiful features of the school

Dream Fulfilled

This year saw the opening of the west branch of J. Sterling Morton High School. Students and teachers alike were unprepared for the graceful examples of modern architecture, from the curved hallway at the auditorium to the glass enclosed plaza of the main entrance which awaited them in the new building. In addition to being beautiful, however, the school houses all of the advanced ideas in education including a foreign language laboratory.

Morton West students are informed and entertained by the many glass enclosed bulletin boards located throughout the school

Making a student project out of decorating the art room, students show traditional initiative and ambition.

An example of the beautiful architecture of the west branch is found in this stairway.

The Writer's Club car well illustrated the Homecoming theme of ROARING TWENTIES. Decorated cars as well as floats are invited to participate in the parade.

For the first time, the Morton Mustang was present to preside over the game and assembly

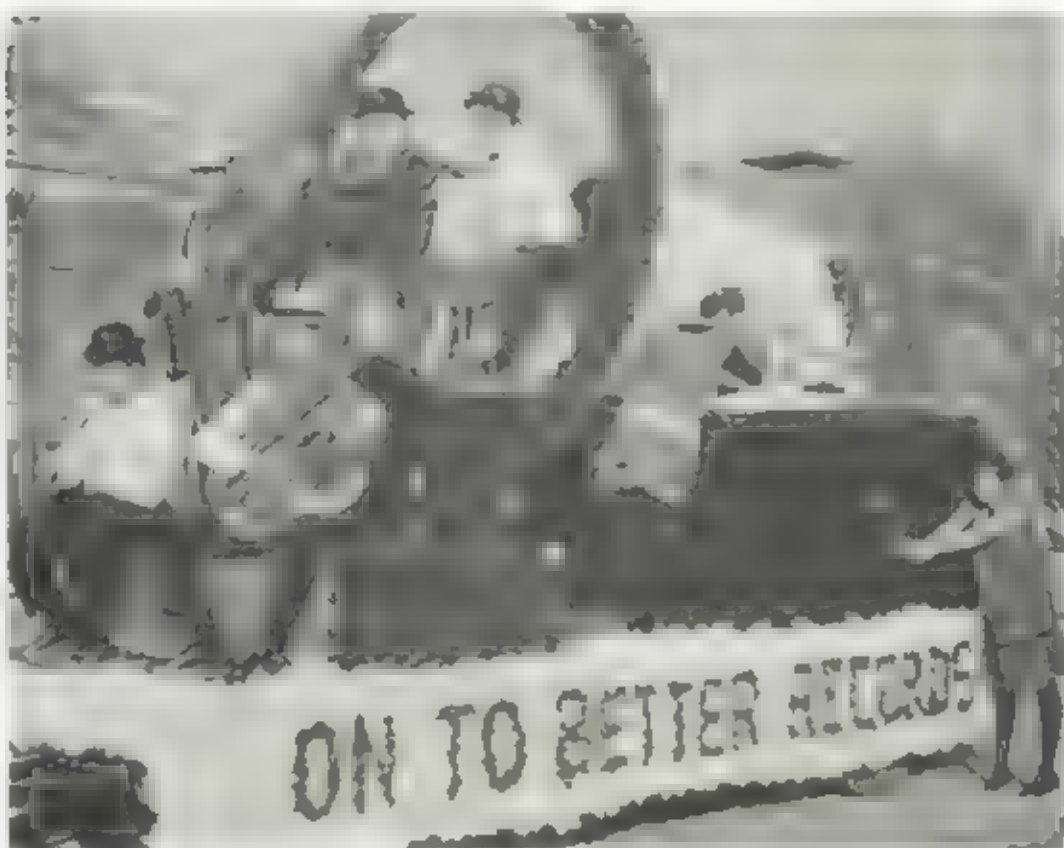

Homecoming Capers

Morton players, cheered on by an enthusiastic crowd, rose to the occasion and came out of the battle with a 7-7 tie.

The most anticipated and prepared for event of the fall is the Homecoming weekend. It begins on Friday afternoon with the assembly after school in the stadium and ends with the dance the next night during which the Frosh-Soph and Varsity queens are crowned. The parade Saturday morning is the much awaited product of many weeks of student labor, and the weekend is highlighted by the game which is, after all, the core of "the Big Weekend"

Hours of labor go into the floats participating in the Homecoming parade which are completely hand made by students.

The J S M. Dance Band entertains for the Homecoming Assembly held at the stadium

Graceful swimmers perform at the annual swim show sponsored by the Morton Swim Club.

One of the many bulletin boards of Morton East, this one on the corner of 24th Street and Austin Boulevard, is ranked among the favorites.

Familiar Scenes

Birthday posters and a corsage have long been the traditional way for Morton girls to wish their friends a happy birthday.

The boys in the visual aids department deliver a move to a class.

Mr. Kawczynski does a good job in keeping Morton West students well supplied with school essentials.

of School Life

Once the scene of crowded basketball games and rallies, the Morton East auditorium stage has a dejected air about it now that the west field house has taken over the job

Changes at East

One of the advantages of the new standard shift is that there is now time for supplementary work for the students interested. Here Mr. Roberts of the mathematics department conducts a weekly introductory class in topology

A minor change in the location of the class rings' display this year at the east branch is pointed out by junior Robert Ricconi

The student supply store at Morton East was moved from room 355 to the cafeteria for the convenience of the students who are now able to obtain supplies during their lunch hour

With the addition of anything new to something old side effects are bound to come. The east branch of J.S.M. was no exception to this rule. From the change in the double shift schedule to the better, more efficient standard program to the addition of milk lines in the cafeteria the changes usually were for the benefit of the student and were readily accepted as such. By and large, however, tested and true student traditions were kept and life went on at Morton East as it did before the changes were made

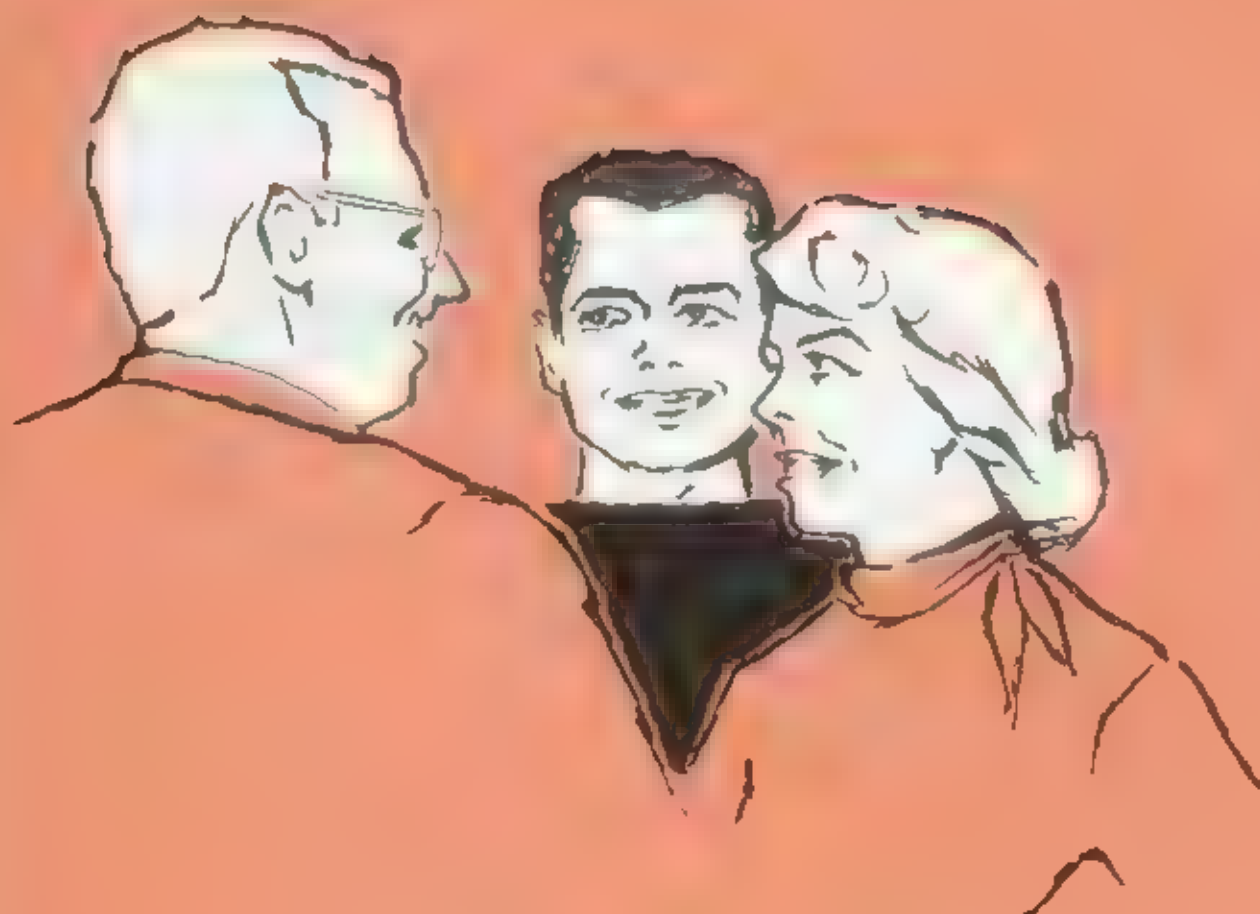

Another new feature in the "caf" at east to improve efficiency is the set-up of milk lines in various sections to take the load off the hot food lines

The deans issue admittance slips to students absent the previous day

Faculty

The faculty plays an important part in the fulfillment of THE DREAM. Through them the student is shown the higher realms of living, and it is they who direct him to the path which leads to the ultimate goal. Without teachers, the hopes for the future would have little meaning, for what good is a dream without knowing the means by which to accomplish it? It is our faculty who provide this means.

MR. CHARLES MATT

The enormous amount of work connected with running Morton East and Morton West is largely divided among these seven men who were elected by the people of our school district. Serving without pay and working in cooperation with the superintendent and school officials, they determine the policies of Morton, budget all money, and secure teachers and other members of the staff. Through their guidance, Morton is able to provide its students with the best possible education. Although they seldom have any personal contact with the school, they render a great service to it. They guide Morton to the high position it holds in the educational world, and we all thank them for devoting their time and efforts to us.

Superintendent

MR. ALLEN R. MOORE

I hope that those of you who are graduating are leaving with the conviction that your years at Morton have helped you in some measure to prepare for whatever lies ahead in the adult world. I hope, also, that the future may bring the realization of your worthwhile ambitions and that this future will include a serious interest in the many aspects of the world about you, local, national, and international. If you are to enjoy life in peace and comfort, you must accept your share of the responsibility to demonstrate to others and to teach people everywhere how to live together for the mutual benefit of all.

And finally, I urge you to keep an interest in Morton and its activities.

I charge you, the undergraduates, to use your talents to the utmost so that a minimum of human resources will be lost in this period of great demand for the educated mind.

Allen R. Moore

Assistant Superintendent

DR. WALTER L. COOPER

This year Dr. Cooper has taken over the new position of Assistant Superintendent. One of his many duties is employing new teachers. Teachers often make appointments with him to discuss their problems, programs, or projects. He distributes district wide bulletins which pertain to both branches of Morton. Much of Morton's correspondence passes through his office. He represents Morton at both the American Association of School Administration and the North Central Association. Since he is also vice-president of Morton Junior College, many college affairs pass through his hands. You will undoubtedly see Dr. Cooper at all of Morton's social and athletic functions. With his friendly attitude, he makes friends everywhere.

Principals

Dr. Roy Turnbaugh, principal of Morton West, plays an important part in the administration of the building. Although he is kept quite busy working with the superintendent preparing a budget and a program of public relations, he always finds time to listen to student problems. He is well liked by the student body and the faculty because of his friendliness.

DR. ROY C. TURNBAUGH

Mr. Evan H. Kelley manages not only to take part in the administration of Morton East, promotes good relationships among the various departments, and engages in many extra-curricular activities, but he also works with the superintendent preparing a budget for the district and a program of public relations. His friendly ways contribute to the good spirit of the school.

MR. EVAN H. KELLEY

Administrative

Business Manager

To fill the vacancy of business manager this year, Dr. Joseph Ondrus was appointed. He assumed his new position at the beginning of January, at which time he was relieved of his old position as Dean of Men of Morton Junior College. Dr. Ondrus's new job includes management of the Supervising and Purchasing Department of both Morton East and West. He also assists Superintendent A. R. Moore in preparing the budget, purchasing needed goods, and keeping records.

DR. JOSEPH ONDRUS

Assistant Principals

Mr. L. C. E. Prucha has been given the appointment as assistant principal at Morton West. Morton West could not function smoothly as a high school without a capable, hard working person to take care of the varied responsibilities of this office.

MR. L. C. E. PRUCHA, Morton West

Dr. S. G. Kosinski, the newly appointed assistant principal at Morton East, has a great many duties to look after as an administrator. Some of the many problems that at first seemed insurmountable because of the new program are now being smoothed out.

DR. S. G. KOSINSKI, Morton East

Assistants

Director of Public Relations

Mr. L. F. Tuleen has an important position as director of Public Relations. Whenever there is any question about subjects required for graduation or about available scholarships, he is the man to ask. He also represents us in the Suburban League and conducts our assemblies. He is the man to see to reserve a special date on the school calendar for a social event, sale, or assembly. His friendly disposition helps to make him one of the most well-liked persons at Morton.

MR. L. F. TULEEN

Deans

Morton MISS O. H. BUSH
West MR. E. A. WRIGHT

Watching out for the welfare of the pupils are Miss Bush and Mr. Wright, the two deans at Morton West. For every student problem that arises they have a ready solution. Their job requires a great deal of kindness, patience and understanding.

Morton MISS E. M. PRUTSMAN
East MR. M. A. WILLETT

Miss Prutsman and Mr. Willett have the huge responsibility of keeping the attendance records of all the students of Morton East and issuing admittance slips. Their job requires more than the usual amount of compassion.

Their jobs range from clipping locks and emptying waste baskets to changing light bulbs and keeping our halls clean, and not until every detail is taken care of is their day's work ended. All these things mean steady work to make Morton a better place in which to learn.

amount of food consumed by the students, but the staff accomplishes this task with speed and efficiency. The cafeteria also sells treats, such as sundaes, malts and pastries. The fine job being done by this staff is worthy of praise.

Classes

We who make up the student body are the center of THE DREAM. In us lies the hopes of the world. Out of us will come the statesmen, doctors, lawyers, and ordinary citizens who will determine the fate of the world; therefore, we are the most important part, for without us there would be no dream.

Classes Prepare

Shorthand is a major asset for a successful career in the business world. First, second and third year shorthand are offered here at Merton in addition to many other fine business courses.

Students for Future

Being able to live with one another is a prerequisite for a peaceful world. By learning how other people live, Mr. Renner's sociology class hopes to promote tolerance among the students of different races and creeds.

The facilities offered in Morton's Art Department enable students to express themselves in a wide variety of fields, from pottery-making to dress design. Here originality and creativeness are encouraged to help the student develop his free ability.

Development of an appreciation of fine music while improving the student's skills is the goal of the many music students at Morton. The course, from music orchestra to advanced harmony, goes to all levels of musical interests.

Girl's Curriculum

Being able to set a good example for their class in addition to being able to demonstrate game & skill kinds are two of the skills these future demagogues are learning. In addition to these a leader must have an ethically average, good posture, a pleasing personality, a recommendation from her gym teacher and have passed the Red Cross beginner's swim test.

Promotes Teamwork

Preparing themselves for the future, these girls take a real joy in learning to correctly prepare and serve food. Their reward comes when they all sit down and eat the food they have so skillfully prepared.

← Emphasis on physical as well as mental We are helping the body grow with the mind. Calisthenics, sports, and gymnastics all help the boys achieve this goal.

In Morton's excellent industrial arts facilities, boys learn to become skillful operators of all kinds of machinery. They are trained to become better men and better citizens.

Students Strive for

Language barriers fall in Morton's language classes where, in addition to learning the language, customs, history and geography, are also taught giving the students a fuller comprehension of each language. Here, Kurt Taraba points out a city on a map of Germany.

Linguistic Talents

Mere pictures in a text book cannot be compared with first hand observation of nature, so biology students have two days a week aside for experiments, as in all the science courses offered at J.S.M. Here at Morton West, expert guidance and modern facilities help the student to do such things as observe amoebas and dissect frogs.

A solid replica of the cone section being studied often brings the student a clearer conception of the problem. Mr. Myers' solid geometry class finds. This course is one of the many fine mathematics courses offered in Morton from elementary algebra to plane trigonometry and calculus.

Entering as Freshmen, Morton students dream of the day when, dressed in cap and gown, they will reach out to receive their diplomas. They work hard and aim high, hoping that they will be in the upper quarter of their graduating class, perhaps even valedictorian. Striving for a successful scholastic career does not stop these industrious students from competing in interscholastic activities, which include the various sports, as well as participating in some of the many clubs available for membership to any Morton student.

Morton students, be they the awed freshmen or the confident seniors, take great pride in their school and her accomplishments. Hearing about the outstanding reputation Morton has throughout the entire United States, they are motivated to work hard in order to maintain this excellent record. Just by simply passing the trophy case on the third floor, one can easily see the many distinctions

Morton, through her student body, has achieved. That these trophies are on display is proof that we are proud of our school.

The seniors, although eager to receive their diplomas, feel somewhat sad at leaving. High school days are said to be the best years of one's life. For the seniors, these years are over. Some students look to further their education by attending a college or university. Others will enter the work-a-day world, leaving campus life entirely behind them. Whatever they do, though, they will always keep with them the memories, the dreams, of Morton High School and the fun, joy, and educational benefit they experienced while within her doors. Each memory will become a dream of the past, but each dream inspired and sustained by the spirit that is Morton's will live on in the hearts of her sons and daughters. Never dies the dream!

Activities

School activities play an important part in preparing us for the realization of THE DREAM. Through them we learn to work with others, laying the foundations and gaining the experience with which we will work in the future to make the hopes based on us come true. Activities are an important part of the school life of all of us. By active participation we give ourselves a better chance to make THE DREAM come true.

CHEMISTRY CLUB . . . The rows of chemicals and complicated apparatus are fascinating to look at, but to these people there are many mysteries to be solved and these are the tools to use. Observing the wonders of chemistry in a test tube stimulates the members' minds to wondering why reactions take place. Such curiosity has often led to discovery, and that is one of the prime goals of the members. The weekly meetings provide members with extra time to satisfy their curiosity. There are many experiments which are too elaborate to do during class time, so these are performed at the club meetings by the advisor or one of the members. Morton is always glad to give its students greater insight into a field when they so desire. Equipment is often purchased by the school for the purpose of helping students complete the projects which they have originated. Some of the more interesting projects are sent to contest and always receive recognition there. Field trips are also considered by the group. President at Morton West was William Reihel; Carol Radke served as Vice-president and Bert Misek was Secretary.

Probing Deeper into

With the diminished number of members because of the two schools, the members were able to get even more individual assistance with their pet ideas. Of course, these ideas often involve many fields of science other than chemistry. With this state of affairs, the students are given a broad background for later life. The golden rules which they try to follow are very noteworthy. Their aims consist of trying to increase their knowledge of science in general, learning to perfect their skills in science, understanding the importance of science in their lives, and carrying out the program of the Science Clubs of America. It is from clubs like this that the engineers of tomorrow get the start they need in the field of research. These people will never regret the time and effort which they expend in the field of chemistry. Ronald Reihel was President at East this year. Edward Formanek held the office of Vice-president and Joyce Orsula, the position of Secretary. Frank Vetrovec was Treasurer.

PHYSICS CLUB . . . With the current emphasis on science being what it is, the Physics Club is of special importance. The discoveries which are made and will be made in the laboratories in which these club members will probably work will be instrumental in the progress of this country. Along with the other science clubs at Morton, the members display intriguing phenomena of science in the form of a Junior Academy of Science project. The interesting experiments involving the use of such fascinating equipment as the strobe light and geiger counter provides the students with many interesting hours of learning. Such important fields as atomic energy and rocketry are encompassed in the field of physics. The increased importance of these has been seen by the students and has caused a surge in the membership of such organizations. This condition is an interesting one, for it shows that Morton students are able to cope with many problems.

BIOLOGY CLUB . . . The Biology Club members, as usual, have taken a great many field trips to the dunes and the quarries. On such trips many fossils are found which aid the students in the understanding of the structure of things which walked the face of the earth many years ago. There are many places in the Chicago area where the members can find interesting subject matter for discussions in school. Garfield Park Conservatory, Coal City, and the various forest preserves in the area are just a few examples. Because of the multiplicity of these locations, the club has adopted these trips as one of its primary functions. Both botanical and zoological studies are carried out as part of the club curriculum. The members learn not only to appreciate the apparent beauties of flowers and insects but also the beauty of the organization of these living things. The raising of plants in the green house at Morton East is also performed by the club. These students are living proof that the more one knows about a subject, the more interesting it becomes.

Experimenting With Science

SCIENCE RESEARCH . . . The mysteries of science are not just questions which these students can leave unexplored. They attempt to find better understanding of these problems by spending additional time in school and personal research. The apparatus which Morton's laboratories have, afford the members tools with which to do many interesting experiments. These people have an overall interest in the many fields of science, and they often incorporate more than one of them in their experiments and projects. The participation in the many field trips planned for their enlightenment is one of the most important functions of this organization. Since this group has such a wide scope of interests, there are many places to which they can make a trip. They can find subjects of scientific interest in almost anything.

FUTURE SCIENTISTS OF AMERICA . . . An interest in science is the only qualification for membership in the Future Scientists of America Club. The club's activities include projects in astronomy, biology, chemistry, and physics. The club also takes various excursions throughout the year. Under the guidance of Mr. D. H. Klein, the members prepare their projects for entry in the Junior Academy of Science Contest. They all devote their time and talents to achieve a single goal — to be awarded an "M" for their participation in club activities. The "M" is presented to the members who deserve one at the annual banquet. Winners of the Junior Academy of Science awards are also acknowledged at this banquet. The officers at Morton East were: Harold Thieda, President; Ken Krizan, Vice-president; Phyllis Gannon, Secretary; and Vern Sterba, Treasurer. The officers at Morton West were: Ronald Bortz, President; Paul Simko, Vice-president; Steven Gabriel, Secretary; and Gordon Hoffman, Treasurer.

From Night to Knight

ASTRONOMY CLUB . . . The Astronomy Club members show great enthusiasm in exploring the heavens. They spend many evenings scanning the skies with the eight-inch reflector telescope. The members study the stars and planets, knowing that in the not too distant future that will be the direction of travel. Since man is such an adventurous creature there will undoubtedly come a time when he will not be able to resist going out to see what lies in that great space, and the Astronomy frontiersmen will be our new pioneers. Trips to the Planetarium and various other observatories in the Chicago area are made, and lectures by the members and sponsors are given. Slides and films also give the members of the club an enjoyable and enlightening time. The grinding of new mirrors and other phases of work is under the direction of Mr. W. J. Jacobson.

CHESS AND CHECKERS CLUB...

"You can win this game in three moves," is a common expression during a session of the Chess and Checkers Club. Onlookers prophesy the outcome of the game and analyze each move made to see if they can discover the reasoning behind it. The less skilled players watch as the "experts" play in tense silence. The members prepare themselves for the interscholastic Chess Tournament by engaging each other in many games. They accept each other's suggestions for improvement and try to practice them. They are then prepared to meet the opposing players from other schools. An example of these interscholastic meets is the one with Evanston in which our Morton team was the victor.

MATH CLUB EAST . . . The fact that some students find mathematics uninteresting is an unbelievable one. However, the growing membership of the Math Club shows that this condition is not the overall picture. The students enjoy working with the theorems and formulas which provide them with a great deal of mental exercise. It is a fact that such mental gymnastics help a person to become a quick thinker. The members find a real challenge in an unsolved problem and cannot rest until it is solved. The main event of the Math Club is the preparation for participation in the nation-wide math contest. This test is very difficult and requires a great deal of study. The students are given a great deal of enjoyment along with education because of the excellence with which their advisor, Mr. Cherry, teaches them. Perhaps it is he who has been so instrumental in providing Morton with such outstanding contest winners. East officers were Ed Euler, President; Dwight Kucera, Vice-president; and Janet Danda, Secretary.

MATH CLUB WEST . . . Math Club meetings provide the members with a great deal of extra information which is and will be valuable to them in what ever field they enter. The need for more and better mathematicians is acute. The ways in which this extra education is implemented are varied. One of the most clever ways has been used at Morton West this past year. Each member has been required to give a program for the group on some subject by doing and thus far supplementing mathematical interest further than the classroom. With this dissemination and free exchange of knowledge, these students hope to make the world a better place. The members at West also express their gratitude for the help which their advisor, Mr. Ferris, gave them. President at west this past year was Vic Legner. Bert Mizek was Vice-president, and Vicki Legner was Secretary.

TRAVEL CLUB . . . "Westward Ho!" That is a familiar and yearly call of the members of the Travel Club. The fabulous ten day vacation is spent amid the breathtaking beauty of mountainous Colorado. Pictures, movies, and slides that were taken by the members on this trip, are shown at their meetings. The members enjoy reliving the trail rides, explorations, and sometimes hilarious episodes they encountered. If you enjoy travel, this club is for you. Miss R. L. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Farris are the able enthusiastic directors of the Travel Club. Its officers were: President, Rita Luck, Vice-president, Ernest Chaloupka, Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Horeak.

ROCKET SOCIETY . . . "Blast off!" These are the words most thrilling to the enthusiastic members of the Rocket Society. The gleam of the rockets with their impressive massiveness is the incentive which they have to promote them to investigations in rocketry methods. With the current emphasis on missiles and rockets being what it is, these people realize that this field is of outstanding importance to the security of our country. The race to the moon and other places in outer space takes a great deal of preparation in the form of research in order to win. It is people like these who can help us win the race because they have the curiosity which is so instrumental to discovery. President this year was Frank Jur. Boyd Mudra served as Vice-president, and Walter Friis was Secretary. Vernon Sterba was Treasurer.

JAZZ CLUB . . . Jazz, the modern idiom of American music, has become the interest of the members of this organization. An understanding of this relatively new and changing musical expression is the goal of this cohesive group. Members attend jazz concerts, analyze records for scintillating rhythm and modern sounds, and demonstrate instrumentally the latest jazz effects and harmonic progressions. One of the goals of the Jazz Club is to promote a better understanding and appreciation of jazz throughout the entire student body. So if you want to be "way out" join the Jazz Club. Mr. W. W. HI-C CLUB . . . If you desire fellowship with other Christian students, then the club for you is Hi C. The club is nondenominational with an aim to promote greater Christian fellowship throughout the school. It helps students to learn more about the Bible and its teachings. This is done through student speakers, club discussions, films, and programs of religious music. Throughout the year the club is engaged in retreats, conferences, prayer meetings, and caroling at Christmas time. The retreats — the fall and spring are held at Robbins Lodge in Palos Hills. On the less serious side, the club enjoys swimming socials, skating socials, and picnics. A monthly newspaper, The Shield is published by the group and carries articles about colleges that offer courses for the ministry. At Morton West the sponsors are Miss R. M. Streblow and Mr. E. W. Nelyson. The officers were: President, Don Childs; Vice-president Lois Haznedl; Treasurer, Alan Swiglo, and Secretary, Betty Hoeksema. At Morton East the sponsor is Mr. J. H. MORNING PRAYER . . . Most of the members of this organization are also members of the Hi-C Club. Because of the great attendance at Hi-C meetings, these people did not feel that their desires for religious activities were being fulfilled. This year's Morning Prayer membership has been one of the largest ever. The students have morning meetings at which they discuss the Bible in detail. These gatherings have been both enjoyable and enlightening to the people who derive food for thought from scripture writings. The many ways in which the Bible can be interpreted is one of the activities of this club. They are getting a great deal of experience in teaching their minds to reason correctly. STAMP CLUB . . . Philatelists are the people who find a great deal of interesting information available on the little piece of paper which we stick on envelopes. The stamp's mundane existence is more than made up for by the fascination which these students find in them. The securing of new issues as well as the collecting of old ones is often discussed at the meetings. The colorful patterns and delicate water marks are all very important to the scarcity and value of stamps. It is quite interesting to observe the many small details which can make a stamp increase in worth to these collectors. Selling and trading stamps during the club meetings is of prime importance and is very beneficial to the members' collections. Cooperation is essential to stamp collecting.

Since the club is newly organized this year, it is still more or less in the planning stage. Under the leadership of Mr. W. D. Rader, the members participated in various conferences concerning governmental and other topics relating to social science. It was this club which took on the responsibility of planning the administration of the United Nations Test. The twenty-six members also took several field trips to places of historical significance. Practicing Today for a Better FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA . . . Today, more than ever, students are turning to business as their future work. It is the purpose of the Future Business Leaders of America to provide its members with a greater knowledge of business and encourage active participation. Students who are interested in the operations of the business world can gain valuable knowledge. The FBLA. Several trips are taken to local business firms to enable the members to observe first-hand the inner working of a successful business. They were privileged again this year to travel to Springfield where they stayed at the LeeLand Hotel. They participated in activities at the Springfield Y M C A and took top honors there. The officers at Morton East were: Juanita George, President; Joyce Kukla, Secretary, and Jan Gatenby, Treasurer. At Morton West the officers were: Joyce Eadsler, President; Jance Cassaway, Vice-president; Jane Daubner, Secretary, and Carol Beron, Treasurer.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA . . . The F.T.A. is a national organization to familiarize students with the teaching profession. Students learn the aspects of teaching, the opportunities in a teaching career, and the various positions obtainable with proper training, through membership. The year's activities, which include lectures on teaching given by prominent educators, were topped off in the spring by a trip to a nearby teacher's college. During previous years, plans were made to visit Northwestern University and the University of Chicago. Knowledge of the educational facilities available are secured through these trips. The club is advised by Mr. V. W. Scubikowski. Official positions were held by Carole Rychek, President; Jessica Feinberg, Vice-president; Marilyn Skorski, Secretary; Arlene C. . . . Treasurer.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Improving their skills in cooking and sewing is the objective of the Future Homemakers of America Club. The girls discuss new ways of preparing foods, as well as other culinary short cuts. The members also gain practice in dressmaking and sewing techniques. By sponsoring sales of various items, the girls obtain money for their numerous projects, activities, and excursions. Only students in the vocational sales course who have jobs in stores in the near vicinity are eligible for membership in this club. A major activity this year was the annual Area Fall Conference for which Morton was the host school. Over two hundred students, representing six different schools, were present at this very successful session. Other activities consisted of a trip through the National Biscuit Company's cookie baking plant and a series of workshop discussions led by the members themselves. A business session followed by a banquet and dance was an enjoyable highlight of the year. This spring the F.D.A. took part in the Leadership Training Conference held in Springfield, Illinois. Morton was represented by four delegates who later reported to the club on the outcome of the Conference. The first semester officers were Louis Strazzante, President; Martin Sedivy, Vice-president; Francis Caruso, Secretary; Edward Nugent, Treasurer; and Ronald Difelio, Reporter. Officers for the second semester were Ronald Difelio, President; Jerome Knight, Vice-president; Richard Teglia, Secretary; Roberta Miller, Treasurer; and Frances Cozzie, Reporter. Mr. W. F. FUTURE NURSES . . . Future Nurses Club is in its first year at Morton. This club's purpose is to plan the girls' futures more adequately, with a better understanding of nursing. Teas are given at various nearby hospitals to acquaint future nurses with their training facilities. The money raising effort of the club this year was a bake sale at one of our local banks. One service performed by the club this year was to make favors for hospital trays during Christmas. The favors went to Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago. In order to remain on the staff a member must receive a passing grade in every subject. If he fails one of his subjects, he is put on a six week probation so that he has a chance to bring his grade up. If he doesn't, he is automatically dropped from the staff.

At the end of each day, all the money is counted, checked out, and deposited in the various accounts of the Cashier's Office. Mr. F. C. Petrdil, advisor of the group, makes sure that the members are always busy.

for Future Vocations

MODEL RAILROAD CLUB . . . The efficiency and speed with which railroads operate is found to be very fascinating to these people. The splendor of the old steam engine with its black smoke and pounding side rods is truly great. Men and boys have looked up to the engineer driving his massive train with awe. These students hope the day will never come when children will not know what a steam engine was. In the hope of doing something to avert this eventuality, the members of the Railroad Club build models of these engines for their own enjoyment and also with the desire of leaving something by which these classic pieces of machinery may be remembered. A great deal of work goes into the construction of these models, and when they are finished, the builders like to see them run. For this purpose, a special room was secured at East, and an HO gauge layout was built in it. The construction of this layout is quite costly and takes a good deal of time, but it is enjoyed by all. Most of the equipment which is run there is student owned, and it is for that reason that the members are always glad to have visitors who have some rolling stock of their own. Of course, the members also enjoy some out of school "raffanning." This consists of taking special trips on railroads which are of special interest to them. New members are always welcome to this active club.

Services

FROSH-SOPH GIRLS' CLUB . . . Although the Fresh-Soph Girls' Club is divided this year between Morton East and Morton West, the primary goal of the girls is the same — to help others through their services. These girls made Christmas a happier event for hospitalized children this year by sending them small animals. The animals, made from wash clothes, were cleverly designed by the girls themselves. Their latest project is repairing toys and making rag dolls for various charities. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. P. G. Musil, the girls become better citizens through their charitable undertakings. Also, they develop within themselves the rewarding characteristics of faith, hope, charity, and love, all of which will be of immeasurable

That Benefit Others

JUNIOR-SENIOR GIRLS' CLUB . . . Each year at Christmas time, Miss E. M. Prutsman, advisor of the Junior Girls' Club, is busily helping the members plan the Mother-Daughter Banquet. This Banquet is the club's most important project, as it is given for all the girls of Morton and their mothers. The title of this year's affair was "My Fair Lady," and it was kept a well-guarded secret as always, until the night of the banquet. Throughout the year, the members of this active club contribute their services to other school affairs. Among these are serving at the Father-Son Banquet, ushering for many evening school events in beautiful formals, and collecting contributions for the Community Chest and Red Cross. The Lost and Found Department is also the responsibility of the club. In their free time, members work there, returning misplaced articles to their rightful owners. The officers at Morton East were: Marilyn Pry, President, Sandra Hermanek, Vice president; Fran Smetana, Secretary, and Marilyn Wilke, Treasurer.

JUNIOR COUNCIL . . . With the crowded conditions which often prevail at the beginning of our assemblies, we can see that bedlam would reign supreme if it weren't for the boys of the Junior Council. These boys are always ready to give aid to confused students and to keep order. They stand calmly at every entrance of the auditorium and see to it that the students enter in an orderly fashion. If a late-comer cannot find a seat, he can depend upon the aid of one of the Council members. These boys have an almost uncanny ability to locate a vacant seat in an always crowded auditorium. SENIOR COUNCIL Good citizenship and capable leadership are stressed in the Senior Council. Junior and senior boys who are eager to serve their community and school are welcome to join the club. The boys serve at banquets and, along with the boys from the Junior Council, are always on duty whenever a program is presented in the auditorium. Their biggest undertaking for the year was the Father and Son Banquet. Under the leadership of their advisor, Mr. H. A. Meeker, the members planned with enthusiasm this dinner for all Morton boys and their fathers. The food which they served appealed to the appetite of all who attended. The Council members, who served at the Mother and Daughter Banquet, invited the members of the Junior-Senior Girls' Club to return the honor by serving at the Father and Son Banquet. The boys did an outstanding job in planning for the program. This year's speaker

LITERARY SEMINAR CLUB . . . In its second year of operation at Morton the Literary Seminar Club, formerly known as the Reading Club, continues to help its members cultivate a love and appreciation for fine literature. The club advisor, Mrs. L. A. Zerwer, encourages the members to develop an avid interest in numerous styles of writing, too. The members first read a book for enjoyment. Then they bring it to a club meeting to criticize it for its value. They learn to analyze the book by studying the various situations and problems which it presents. They also become more familiar with the many great writers of the classics, as well as the authors of current literature. The officers for this year were Don W. Huntley, President; Peggy Don W. LIBRARY CLUB . . . The main purpose of the Library Club is to help the librarians of Morton in their duties. The members shelve books, work at the desk, and help students locate the books they need. In addition, they try to provide the students with a better understanding of the way a library operates — its card catalogue, shelving system, and reference materials. The club members also enjoy reading and discussing books and visiting other libraries. Officers at Morton East were Ursula Jasinski, President; Cynthia Jurcik, Vice-president, First semester; Sandra Cerny, Vice-president; Elen Komarek, Secretary; Lauretta Jannanga, Treasurer, and Barbara Costa, Historian; Second Semester: The officers at Morton West were Judy Novak, President, Donna Lynn Elliott, Vice-president, Barbara Henderle, Secretary-Treasurer, and Bob Wegner, Historian.

WRITERS' CLUB . . . Since its first publication, TRIAL FLIGHTS has been a supplement to the English Department curriculum. Written entirely by the students of Morton, it is edited and published by the members of the Writers' Club. After careful study and great consideration, they select the compositions to appear in TRIAL FLIGHTS. The club advisor, Miss M. A. Diez, supervises their work, adding her own valuable opinion. After months of hard work, the members wait eagerly for the first copies of TRIAL FLIGHTS to come off the press. They then submit them to the teachers and students. When they receive their copy, the students go through the book page by page, hoping to find some of their work. The officers for this year were: Dorothy Bursik, President; Linda Graziulis, Vice-president; Mary Ann Rizzato, Secretary; and Michael Kouri, Treasurer.

WEEKLY CLUB . . . A large number of Morton students have an enthusiastic interest in the field of journalism. Consequently, our school paper, THE MORTONIAN WEEKLY, is one of the best, most complete, high school papers put out by a student body. There are, of course, many problems which arise in the publication of a good newspaper. It is the purpose of the club advisor, Miss M. Block, to give the members a greater insight on the running of a newspaper, as well as to discuss the numerous techniques found to be the most effective. The members also become more familiar with the skills necessary to the news writer. They learn how to write copy for a limited space; they develop the art of presenting the facts in a neutral point of view, or, in the case of an editorial, how to state their cause in such a way that the reader will be stirred by its context; in short, the members of the club are taught the principles of good journalism.

Using Visual Experiences

OPERATORS CLUB Most students look forward to the days when a movie will be shown in their class. The films which are used to supplement the curriculum of the various departments of Morton are shown by the members of the Operators Club. The films range from historical pictures of the Civil War to history classes to very valuable techniques in physical education classes. Films which Mr. B. McKinnon the librarian at our school has in his immediate possession can be ordered from the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago for a rental period of time. The surprise of the establishment of this club was to present the Audio Visual program at the Morton School Library. The Audio Visual program which is an integrated part of today's modern education has many uses in the Audio Visual program. It has a great deal of material, including films, transparencies, tapes, and manuscript in this program. It is a very important part of today's physical education program, and it is a responsibility of the various departments. Audio Visual is a very important part of these are sound made on film, film and audio recording projectors, magnetic recording and audio recording projectors, manuscript projectors, tape recorders, and audio systems. for Educational Progress

ART CLUB . . . The prime objective of the Art Club is to gain enjoyment in the field of art. The members are encouraged to develop their creative talents and to express themselves in some form of art. They are also instructed in the appreciation of fine art by their advisors, Miss N. Heraty at Morton East, and Miss L. Tarachas at Morton West. The members contribute their artistic abilities to various school projects, programs, and parties. Their work has been used frequently for decorations at assemblies and teas, thereby bringing the pleasure found in art to others. The festive decorations adorning the halls at Christmas time are another contribution of the Art Club. They often help in scenery designing and painting for the many school plays. Among the various forms of art enjoyed by the club members are painting ceramics, jewelry, prints, pottery and dress designing. Their efforts are arranged in the display in the annual Scholastic Art Contest at Wieboldt's Department Store. The officers at Morton East were: Janice Georgandas, President; Judy Lathrop, Vice-president, Darlene Silver, Secretary, and Deana Van Husen, Treasurer. The officers at Morton West were: Sharon Wolford, President, Karen Paulas, Secretary, Barbara Kubik, Treasurer, Robert Hegstrom, Program Chairman.

BOOSTER CLUB . . . One of the worthiest organizations in both Morton East and Morton West which has done a great deal to make the football and basketball games at Morton a pleasure to those who attend them, is the Booster Club. The club sells peanuts, cokes, candy, and various kinds of refreshments to the hungry spectators who view our home games. Food is purchased a few hours before a game and is sold in the stands outside at the football games and in the foyer before the gymnasium at the basketball games. The sale begins before the freshmen-sophomore game and continues through the varsity game. Cokes, candy, potato chips, and the like are sold at moderate prices so as not to hamper any student from buying. Students from either Morton East or West are allowed to join this club. The club meets together both East and West alternating the meetings between schools. The girls are required to wear white blouses and appear neat while selling the refreshments. Due to the willingness of these girls, Morton games are now more comfortable to everyone attending. The members are extremely loyal to the name and reputation of Morton.

Mr. Hampton and Mr. Pace, advisors of the Booster club for East and West respectively, would like to extend membership to any girl who wishes to sell food at the students' games next year. It is not only an honor but also a privilege to be one of the many students helping provide a friendly atmosphere at the games. The fun far outweighs the work. Some students seem to never have enough to eat and up go the sales. "It is really surprising how much some students will eat!" exclaimed one surprised student. You get to meet many new people and make many friends. This service organization is one of the best liked clubs in Morton and is an excellent choice when one is planning on joining a club. The club elects officers and carries on meetings. SWIM CLUB . . . The aims of the Swim Club are to bring together students who enjoy swimming and who are skilled in the art of swimming. These skills take in diving, skulling, and underwater swimming. Mastery of a variety of strokes completes the essential background for membership. Prospective members are given difficult entrance tests which are held in the fall of the year. Months of hard work are spent in perfecting strokes and learning water ballet stunts, and the finished accomplishments are shown to the public at the annual water ballet. This show always draws a capacity crowd because of the excellence in decorations, costumes and choreography. Members work for their "M" by participating in the show and by swimming five lengths for their swim cards. This year's show was titled, "Let's Dream With Gershwin." The charities which benefited by the proceeds of this show were the Cancer Research Foundation and the sponsorship of a foster child. Activities of the club included a Christmas party, a trip to the Sand Dunes, and attendance at other swim shows at other high schools and Northwestern University. Pointers obtained at these various swim shows enable the members to bring new skills to their annual show, making it better each time. The officers of the Club this year were: President, Ed Homolka, Vice-president, Carol Korbel, Secretary Donna Lee Capek; and Treasurer, Bill Komarek. Miss R. E. LIFESAVING CLUB . . . This club is an organization of girls who are interested in guarding the lives of the splashing mermaids of Morton's gym classes. The requirements of the club are an interest in this type of work and the possession of a Red Cross Life Saving certificate. The members are alert and quite able to provide aid to the swim classes if such a need arises. In addition to being capable lifeguards, they assist in teaching swim skills and treating falls, picking up towels, and other such tasks. The activities this past year included a successful carnation sale, a nose clip sale, several splash parties, picnics, demonstrations in life saving, and a water ballet. Officers of the club this past year were: Presidents, Sharon Bucaro (West) and Jill Cerny (East). The advisors were Miss R. E. Berman (West) and Miss D. Wendt (East).

Skill, Co-ordination, and Technique

GIRLS' TUMBLING CLUB . . . The tumbling club was created out of a desire for healthful recreation and interesting activity. It brings together a group of girls who are interested and talented in tumbling in order to further their ability. The girls, who have had to pass rigid tests in order to become members, are constantly learning new skills and sharing this graceful talent by performing at school functions such as the Homecoming Parade, P.E. demonstrations, parties, and banquets. The ease and grace with which they perform their routines make tumbling appear easy, but the sport involves plenty of practice. The club contributes to such worthwhile organizations as the scholarship league and the Welfare Committee. The officers were President, Leandra Pietrzak; Vice-president, June Kubajak, and Secretary, Christine Reider. Miss R. E. Berman is the club's advisor.

BOYS' TUMBLING CLUB . . . Few people realize the skill and coordination required to perform successfully on a trampoline or to do strenuous exercises on a tumbling mat. The Boys' Tumbling Club does not compete in interscholastic meets, and the only opportunity the students have to see the members perform their intricate stunts is at the Physical Education Exhibition. The sport is more dangerous than it appears, and the possibility of injury is great. A twist or landing in the wrong way may result in a bad injury. However, through careful training in fundamental skills, injuries are eliminated. Coach O. J. Kudrnovsky aids the boys in improving their techniques.

Skillful tumblers enjoy their sport.

SPEED SKATING . . . Winter, with its frigid weather, is not accepted with a great deal of enthusiasm by most people, but there is a group that looks forward to it. While the greater part of the population is content to get some form of entertainment, the Speed Skating Club members are skating over the ice. They relish the cold because for them it presents an opportunity to demonstrate the skating talents they have acquired. This is made possible at various events and on weekends the Silver Skates Derby is held each year. Mr. J. H. Seaholm directs the members in this growing sport.

FENCING CLUB . . . Fencing was originally practiced as a means of settling disputes, but the purpose of the Morton Boy's Fencing Club is to teach the members the fundamentals of fencing as a sport. The advanced members receive instructions in the epee (dueling sword). All of the members enjoy this form of competition involving personal skills. Fencing as a sport helps to promote agility, develops muscular control, and gives to the fencer good bodily poise. The officers of the Fencing Club were President, Alexander Prokop; Vice-president, Rich Mikulecky; Secretary and Treasurer, Cliff Pliml. The able advisor to this club is Mr. R. C. Reiner.

Under the guidance of Mr. R. C. Reiner, these boys are becoming proficient in the art of fencing.

SADDLE CLUB . . . The Saddle Club is an organization that teaches an appreciation of horses and the correct techniques in handling them. Members are interested in riding and learning the fundamentals of riding. The Saddle Club offers opportunities for the advanced riders as well as for the beginners. Each Saturday the members who desire so, assemble at the Lakeside Riding Academy. There in one of three classes; beginners, intermediate, or advanced, they learn to walk, trot and canter their horses and also many other stunts. These are all taught under the guidance of trained instructors from the Academy. An annual horse show is presented by the members of the Saddle Club and competition for one of the five ribbons that are awarded in each class runs high. It is also possible to participate in horse shows given by other stables and in one sponsored by a local newspaper. The officers for the club were: Anita Campbell, President; Anita Johnson, Vice-president; Pat Gabelick, Secretary; Peggy Muel, Treasurer from East; Linda Michaels, President; Linda Atkinson, Vice-president; Mary Lou Hughes, Secretary; Sandra Sherwin, Treasurer at West. The advisors of the club are Miss A. J. Jelinek at West and Miss E. G. Endriz at East.

CZECH CLUB . . . Anyone who is of Czech descent or is interested in the Czech customs and language is eligible to become a member of the Czech Club. The members are encouraged to speak in Czech and they do an excellent job of carrying on the traditions and customs of old Czechoslovakia. Folk dances are performed at various assemblies and the colorfully costumed Czechs transfer one to a cultured country that carries on valiantly in spite of the oppression it is under. This year's officers were: President, Dofores Beranek, Vice-president, Audrey Lizner; Secretary, Anna Srotyr; Treasurer, Jane Srotyr.

LATIN CLUB . . . The Latin Club celebrated the Saturnalia with two Latin plays and a party. They also purchased classical statues with which to enhance their Latin classroom. The Ides of March found the members at a Roman Banquet in the Roman Room of the Como Inn. These members have a magazine, Spectato, of which they are justly proud. President of the club was Thomas Kral; Vice-president, Angeline Zakrocky; Treasurer, Sylvia Culkar; Secretary, Loretta Lucas; for East. Officers for West were Janel Fujihara, President, Joyce Gregor, Vice-president, James Kadlec, Treasurer; Judy Zazvorka, Secretary. The success and enthusiasm of the club are due to the Club's advisors, Miss H. E. Hendricks and Mrs. B. M. Martin.

FRENCH CLUB . . . The magic of old France is fascinating to everyone, although sometimes vague. However, to the French Club members it is especially splendid because of their various activities which help them to live a few moments in the Parisian atmosphere. The viewing of pictures of this picturesque land with its charming serenity helps the members to get a deeper insight into the life of the gay Frenchman. This and other assorted activities as listening to music written by the various French composers and reading descriptive literature are also enjoyed. Flowers typify this beautiful land, and that is why this club has chosen to raise its annual funds by a carnation sale.

GERMAN CLUB . . . The wonders of Deutschland are brought to the attention of the club members each week as they enjoy the many interesting facets of German life. The interesting bits of information which the advisors insert into class studies serve as a stimulus for seeking further insight into the country of many legends. Such activities as singing German songs and observing traditional customs bring the country's colorful life to the members. The enthusiasm which they show also brings to their attention many extra-curricular services which the school can provide and thus gives them a more rounded education of the subject which they can enjoy. Reading stories in German and viewing movies are just two of the ways in which this type of education is executed. Of course, the activities are not all work but also involve several parties and the annual trip to a well known German restaurant.

SPANISH CLUB . . . These club members enjoy the language they are learning more fully because they actually find a practical use for it outside of class. The official language in which the meetings are conducted is Spanish. This excellent idea provides the members with a challenge in learning to translate quickly. The Spanish customs which these students can enjoy through discussion are practically unlimited because of the many countries which speak the language. With this state of affairs, it is not hard to see that the meetings never lag for there is always a good deal of conversational material. The ancient civilizations of Spain and Mexico provide invigorating discussion topics as do the newer ones of South America. Mexico with its many fascinations, beckons to many of these people and so, a great many of them take the school trip there during Easter vacation. With so much subject matter, it is not hard to see why the members are so enthusiastic.

ITALIAN CLUB . . . The lively country of Italy is of special interest to the members of this group who have studied its very expressive language. They observe various types of Italian art which is becoming increasingly popular throughout the world. Still, the old customs and history of the long inhabited country are the most interesting topics which the club members discuss. The club has two main activities which are enjoyed by all. The popular Torroni candy sale is particularly pleasant for the entire student body. These members have furthered their quest for knowledge by making use of the language laboratory in which they are pictured here. With this system they are able to listen to and translate interesting stories in Italian. This method provides them with a very acceptable form of education. Miss E. Jahelka is Advisor at West and Mr. F. Naccarato at East.

This performance is achieved by the accomplished conducting of Mr. T. Radek. Through the conducting of these orchestral pieces, he is able to educate his group through a range of musical scores, once again, these scores are of enrapturing music.

In the Cate District Music Contest the orchestra provides a variety of training new laureates for the district. The endowed Mr. R. J. Jurek, head of the Music Department, has established a reputation for his talented performers.

The WEEKLY is truly the hub of Morton High School. Its goal is to interpret all school news presenting fair and impartial coverage. Indirectly all students are able to contribute towards its success by participating in various contests and school events which serve as a valuable source of material for the paper. Teachers, students, and experienced reporters record and submit articles and photographs concerning these activities before the publication deadline which is every Tuesday afternoon.

This material is then cleared through a highly qualified editorial staff, the members of which have taken a comprehensive course in journalism. The most important and interesting news items are edited and retyped, photographs and headlines are set up, layouts are completed, and the paper goes to press. It emerges as a masterpiece of the publishing world worthy of the many citations it has received. When Friday finally arrives it shines in all its glory as it is distributed to an eagerly waiting faculty and student body.

Staffs for the paper are elected each semester. They consist of students who are prepared to devote several afternoons each week to complete their duties. In return these students receive valuable experience in newspaper publication, become more acquainted with school activities, and gain skill and friendship by working with others. Positions as typists, proof-readers, and members of exchange and circulation crews are open to all students who have not had journalistic experience.

Great commendation is deserved by Miss M. Bloch and Mr. E. F. Koenig for their apt and quiet work behind the scenes as advisors. Through their encouragement and suggestions they serve as an inspiration to the aspiring young journalists of the future who comprise the WEEKLY Staff.

The WEEKLY offers many special features to Morton students. Aside from the enlightening editorials, a column completely devoted to humor adds life to each edition. The "Record Review" is a particular favorite among students who wish to keep well informed on the latest hits of the musical world, and space is allotted each week for the announcement of important club activities. Last but not least is the "Exchange Column" which the activities of other high schools are described for the enjoyment of the Morton student body.

Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot

The traditional MORTONIAN ANNUAL embraces within its covers the spirit and life of the school in a friendly and helpful way as it registers for posterity all the activities of Morton. It also serves as a veritable testimony of the great progress and accomplishment of each student.

The initial reaction of the annual begins with the organization of the staff before school is dismissed for summer vacation. This gives staff members a rare opportunity to build up a reserve of energy and creative ideas. A little soon the spell of lethargy ends. As fall heralds the reopening of school, the staff arouses itself and pushes forward in a burst of zealous energy to formulate plans for a new and glorious annual. It is interesting to see the varied interpretation of the same features through each successive year.

First to be considered in planning the year book are the frame and cover. This becomes a group project and after much wrangling is usually settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Gradually editors and writers proceed to their work on their particular sections taking great care in designing layout sheets, choosing attractive pictures and writing interesting copy, titles and captions. As the deadline for these assignments approaches activity in the annual office increases until the book is finally sent to press. Although the work of the annual members is almost completed there is still the matter of selling and distributing their masterpiece, a job which keeps the staff busy for the remainder of the school year.

The nuclei of this enthusiastic crew are the moderators Mr. R. J. Tudor and Miss J. MacDonald who through their wise and practical advice stand out as the guiding light of the project until the staff members have completed their assignments.

Interspersed through all this activity are the many gay annual picnics and parties that strengthen the bonds of friendship between an already harmonious group. It is no wonder then, as the school year draws to a close, that a kind of sadness envelops the staff as the old members go out and the new ones come.

Planning ahead.

"Twelfth Night" cast awaits judge's decision

FRANK ZOGAS, T. ORINGER, MRS. H. P. WEBB, J. RICH, B. MISK, B. TOGIAN

One of the focal points of all dramatists at Morton is the contest play. Any drama student is eligible to try out for parts in the selected script and the most qualified of these are chosen. After several weeks of rehearsal the play is presented to English classes for the purposes of studying timing, blocking, and audience reaction so that last minute changes which might improve the actor's portrayal can be made. Finally, the great day of competition arrives, and the show goes on.

This year Twelfth Night, a comedy by William Shakespeare, was the chosen script. Though the play lost to a play by the same author, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Mr. H. P. Webb the play took second place in the district contest, enabling the cast to take part in further competition.

Highlights

This year the kaleidoscopic stage at Morton through the magic of drama was slowly transformed into a scenic Japanese locale as Teahouse of the August Moon became the source of expression for the lofty senior class. The Western mode merged into the Eastern, and occidental performers took on oriental characteristics through the media of makeup and costuming. The main characters of the play were: Thomas Ortiger as Sakini, a sly, but lovable, oriental interpreter; Sharon Zogas as Lotus Blossom, an exquisite Geisha girl, Jim Cermak, Tom Cervenka, and Jerry Styrsky as three frustrated members of the U. S. Army. As a highlight to this unique production, Camelia, a black and white goat, was indoctrinated into the cast and soon became another of the star attractions.

Miss Beverly Lusty's excellent direction combined with the expert technical advice of Mr. R. W. Teeter added authenticity to the play making it one of the outstanding performances of the year.

SPEECH ARTS

The Speech Arts Club embodies all the phases of oral communication under the supervision of Mr. R. W. Teeter. Here, individuals interested in improving their power of eloquence may do so through any one of the many clubs coordinated by this organization. When the skills of these golden voiced orators have been sufficiently developed, they are allowed to prove their prowess by participation in intra-mural and inter-scholastic activities. The most important of these events is the Illinois High School Association Speech Contest. Here, Morton enters dramatic groups, debate teams, and various types of individual speakers who always manage to do remarkably well.

Debate may be compared to verbal fencing as opposing teams parry affirmatively and negatively. The skill required in this play of ideas is built up through extensive reading on a given subject. Facts are compiled to form a basis around which arguments are built, establishing or refuting a point. This is put to practical use by competitive debating with other schools.

Mr. R. Brown, Mr. V. Bunnell, and Mr. R. Kampschroer are the motivating forces behind the debate teams as they spur them on to bigger and better arguments.

Leadership in the M.S.G.A.

A member of the Court of Justice consults advisor on some important matter dealing with the infringement of an M.S.G.A. rule

The Legislative branch of the M.S.G.A. is vested in the representatives and alternates elected each semester by all Homerooms. The chief purpose of the Delegation is to provide contact between the Board of Directors and the Student Body. It is, therefore, the duty of the representatives to relate in detail the materials discussed at the meeting. The representative has one vote on all issues which represents the opinion of his classmates

The Judiciary branch of the M.S.G.A. is the Court of Justice, which is elected by the Board of Directors. The justices alternate as Chief Justice, and the Court elects its own prosecuting attorneys, defense attorneys, secretary, and a bailiff. The Court has the right to punish any and all students found guilty of breaking any school law

Mr. L. S. Zelip, J. Coplon

Eight seniors, eight juniors, four sophomores, and four freshmen, together with all class chairmen, form the executive branch of the Board of Directors. From this group the executive committee is formed. It consists of a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, treasurer, corresponding secretary and assistant secretary. The chairman conducts all Board and Delegation meetings. In late May, the M.S.G.A. sponsors a trip to the Indiana State Dunes Park. Everyone belonging to some branch or committee of the M.S.G.A. may attend. There is much enjoyment in doing a good deed by helping and working with the Morton Student Government Association

Students Representing Their Class

The Senior board consists of sixteen members. There are eight representatives from each school. Each member of the Senior board is in charge of some M.S.G.A. committee. From the senior board, they nominate candidates for the office of chairman of the M.S.G.A. The chairman of the senior board is then chairman of the M.S.G.A. He conducts all Board and Delegation meetings. He is an ex-officio member of all M.S.G.A. committees and as such should attend all meetings of all committees or delegate one of the other officers to do so in his place. Being chairman, he must have a thorough understanding of parliamentary procedure.

Being on the Senior Board, each member is in charge of a committee.

The Junior Board also consists of sixteen members. There are eight representatives from each school. Each member of the Junior board is in charge of an M.S.G.A. committee. These students meet at least once a week to discuss various problems they may be having with their own individual committee. By working together, they are sure to solve their problem.

By working together, the Junior Board is sure to be a successful board.

The Sophomore Board consists of four members. A sophomore is eligible to run in an M.S.G.A. election for an M.S.G.A. office. He may run for vice-chairman, treasurer, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, or assistant secretary. He is not eligible, however, to run for chairman of the M.S.G.A. That privilege is only allowed to a senior.

Being in the Sophomore Board is a great privilege.

Sponsoring Morton Dances

The Freshmen Board consists of eight members. There are four members representing their class in each school. They run for office in October. Before they are able to run in an election, the candidates must have a petition with the signatures of 50 people on it. Then they must pass a test given by the Eligibility Committee, testing their knowledge of the M.S.G.A. Those having good knowledge of the M.S.G.A. are the only people eligible for running in an election. These students work hard representing the freshman class.

The purpose of the Social Committee is to be in charge of all M.S.G.A. dances. The Social Committee is the largest of all M.S.G.A. committees and carries on all of its work through smaller, sub-committees. The committee elects its own officers and committee chairmen. All of these committees work very hard, decorating and planning our school dances. It works under a budget which has to be approved by the M.S.G.A. Board and Delegation. The committee plans the entire dance and sees that all arrangements are made and carried through. It decorates and cleans up after each affair. Every year it sponsors four dances. All of Morton's students look forward to these dances, which are always great successes.

These busy people help make Morton dances possible.

Becoming Acquainted with Our School

The main purpose of the Freshmen Orientation Committee is to direct the freshmen students and help them become better acquainted with our school. This committee together with the M Book Committee helps Morton's newcomers become better acquainted with J.S.M. It puts out an up-to-date handbook for freshmen, transfer students, and new teachers.

The Code of Ethics Committee was formed to write a code for our school. Now that this code has been written, it is the duty of the committee to see that the code is printed on the back of our guide cards. The Public Relations Committee is a co-ordinating committee that informs the student body and the community about the activities of the school government and the school. It is in charge of a column in the Life newspaper and tries to get interesting articles into Chicago newspapers.

Working together, the Public Relations and Code of Ethics Committees help keep the public and student body well informed of important school activities.

The Eligibility Committee is responsible for checking the grades of all candidates running for an M.S.G.A. office to see that they are eligible. Working closely with this committee is the Election Committee. It conducts all school elections pertaining to the M.S.G.A. and the Board and takes charge of all campaigning and assemblies that are in relation to the elections. One of their duties is to keep a record of all the candidates and their positions.

Eligibility and Election Committees are in charge of all campaigning and are to see that all candidates are eligible for running in an ALGA election.

Informing and Honoring Our Students

The purpose of the Bulletin Committee is to inform students of the various school activities. It handles the third floor and outside bulletin boards. Beside handling these, it regulates all notices on black boards and doors. Helping maintain the school's clean neat appearance is the job of the School Improvement Committee. It works for the general welfare of the school.

The Bulletin and School Improvements Committee help students become well informed on all school activities, giving them a reason to be proud of J.S.M.

The Welfare Committee works to help needy families or students in our school who are in need of some sort of aid. Money from the Welfare Fund is used to help students going to school. The Committee carries on such projects as the Talent Assemblies, the Clothing Drive, and the White Elephant Sale. It gives gifts to needy families at Christmas time, visits the sick, sends out get-well cards, and takes field trips. The School Improvement Committee deals with the appearance and condition of the school. It handles the clean-up week within the school. It is their duty to help keep our school neat and clean looking at all times.

Working hard together, the Welfare and School Improvement Committees solve many school problems.

The function of the Medal Awards Committee and the reason for which it was organized is to give recognition to graduating seniors who have excelled in special fields such as music, drama, and debate. These seniors receive their awards during a special assembly, Little Commencement. Most of these students belong to at least one club which is under the jurisdiction of the Club Committee. This committee is responsible for issuing all club charters and passing new club constitutions.

Honoring our active seniors, the Medal Awards and Club Committees work closely together.

Participation in Assemblies

The Assembly Committee is responsible for all assemblies that are presented to the student body. Dates for assemblies and programs must be approved by the Assembly Committee. They must approve all skits and material that will be presented to the students through assemblies. These assemblies are intended for the enjoyment and enlightenment of the student body. One assembly which was held in January dealt with the experiences of a man who had lived in a Communist-occupied country.

Assemblies that are put on during the school year are for the enjoyment of the students.

Good Writing and Speaking Habits

These students are the highly dramatic students of Morton

S. Trumpis, K. Everidge, D. McClendon, R. Votava

THESPIANS . . . The name for this organization has a very interesting and historic background. It seems that a man by the name of Thespis who lived in Greece about 508 B.C. organized the first actor's society. He was a great poet and is considered as the inventor of the tragedy. The National Thespians today are composed of students who have proved their abilities and talents in dramatic activities. Candidates are chosen for membership by a system based on the individual's participation in active drama and backstage work. The many hours of rehearsal which were spent by these people were well rewarded by the high ratings which the contest play received. Mr. Teeter is advisor to this organization. The officers were: Sheri Teeter, President; Madeline Teeter, Vice President; Roy Votava, Secretary; Roy Votava, Treasurer; James Cermak, Historian.

These students are the honorary students of Quill and Scroll

QUILL AND SCROLL

The International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, more commonly called Quill and Scroll, is an organization dedicated toward the advancement of high school journalism. Eligibility is limited to juniors and seniors who are in the upper third of their class and have done superior work in some phase of creative writing or expository writing. Last year they had a banquet in which approximately twelve students were initiated. Three of these students are now seniors.

The three high school students were J. Bryan, D. Pochocki, and C. Laskowski.

MASQUE AND GAVEL . . . The main objective of the Masque and Gavel Society is to promote improved and better speech at home, school, and in society. To be accepted into this organization, students must maintain a minimum average of eighty-five and have acquired the essential traits of a good leader. A student having accomplished this goal and willing to become a member of the organization must declare his candidacy within the first few months of the school year.

This group is the dramatic and interpretative reading interest group.

Promoting Greater Music Appreciation

The name of this organization is Modern Music Masters, Society for Junior and Senior High School Musicians. There are five classes of membership. They are Apprentice, Active, Faculty, Alumni, and Honorary. These students provide wider and greater opportunities for personal musical expression in schools, churches, and civic and social service clubs in our community.

In order to become a member of this organization, one must have at least one interest in either of the following: Band, Orchestral and Choral performance, ensemble, or in solo work. It tries to increase and foster the spirit of good music and musical knowledge to further the reputation of our school as a music center.

Members of the Modern Music Masters all have one thing in common — they appreciate good music.

SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY . . . The highest goal that any Morton student can achieve is membership in the Senior Honor Society. In addition to maintaining a high scholastic standing, membership is limited to those students who have shown an exceptional scholastic standing and possess the qualities of good character, leadership, and service.

Elections are held annually in the spring, giving the student body and faculty an opportunity to select outstanding students for membership. In order to be eligible students must rank in the upper third of their class, and of these only fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class are admitted.

The organization's social activities include teas held each semester for the newly initiated members and, of course, the traditional Splash Party.

This year the Junior Honor Society joined with the Senior Honor Society in the presentation of the Nineteenth Annual Scholastic Honors Banquet on Thursday evening, May 21. At this time, Morton students gained well-earned recognition for efforts and high scholastic standing throughout the year.

The first and second semester officers from Morton East were: Bob Knupp and Allan Barta, chairmen; Laurie Lokay, vice-chairman; Joyce Orzula and Jeanette Demkovich, secretaries; and Allan Barta and Ed Formanek, treasurers. Officers from Morton West included: Linda Grazulis and Stanley Tomsa, chairmen; Carol Fiorito and Sue Bending, vice-chairmen; Sheila Trumpis and Carol Fiorito, secretaries; and Stanley Tomsa and Linda Grazulis, treasurers.

The Junior Honor Society is an organization created to provide a scholastic objective toward which the underclassmen may strive. Among the outstanding qualities possessed by the members are scholarship, leadership, character, and service. A member of the sophomore class having maintained an average of ninety or above in his majors is eligible for membership in the Junior Honor Society. This average must have been maintained for two or three semesters, and the student must have a passing grade in all his minors.

This organization undertakes such projects as placing names on the honor scrolls, sending representatives to the grammar schools of the Morton area to acquaint graduates with Morton, and the annual supervision of the Honors Banquet. They also send out the Congratulating Cards informing the students their names have been placed on the Scroll.

During the first semester, the faculty chooses those of the sophomore class who are deserving of the honor of being in the Junior Honor Society. Beside maintaining a high average, the faculty must consider leadership, character, and service. After an election, about five per cent of the sophomore class is initiated at a ceremony where membership cards are presented to the new members.

During the first semester the officers were: Lois Hlavaty, president; Robert Knupp, vice-president; Lois Byerly, secretary, and Allan Barta, treasurer. All of these students are from Morton East. Those officers from Morton West were: Joseph Bartos, president; Jeanette Meyer, vice-president, Sharon Trichman, secretary; and Victoria Legner, treasurer.

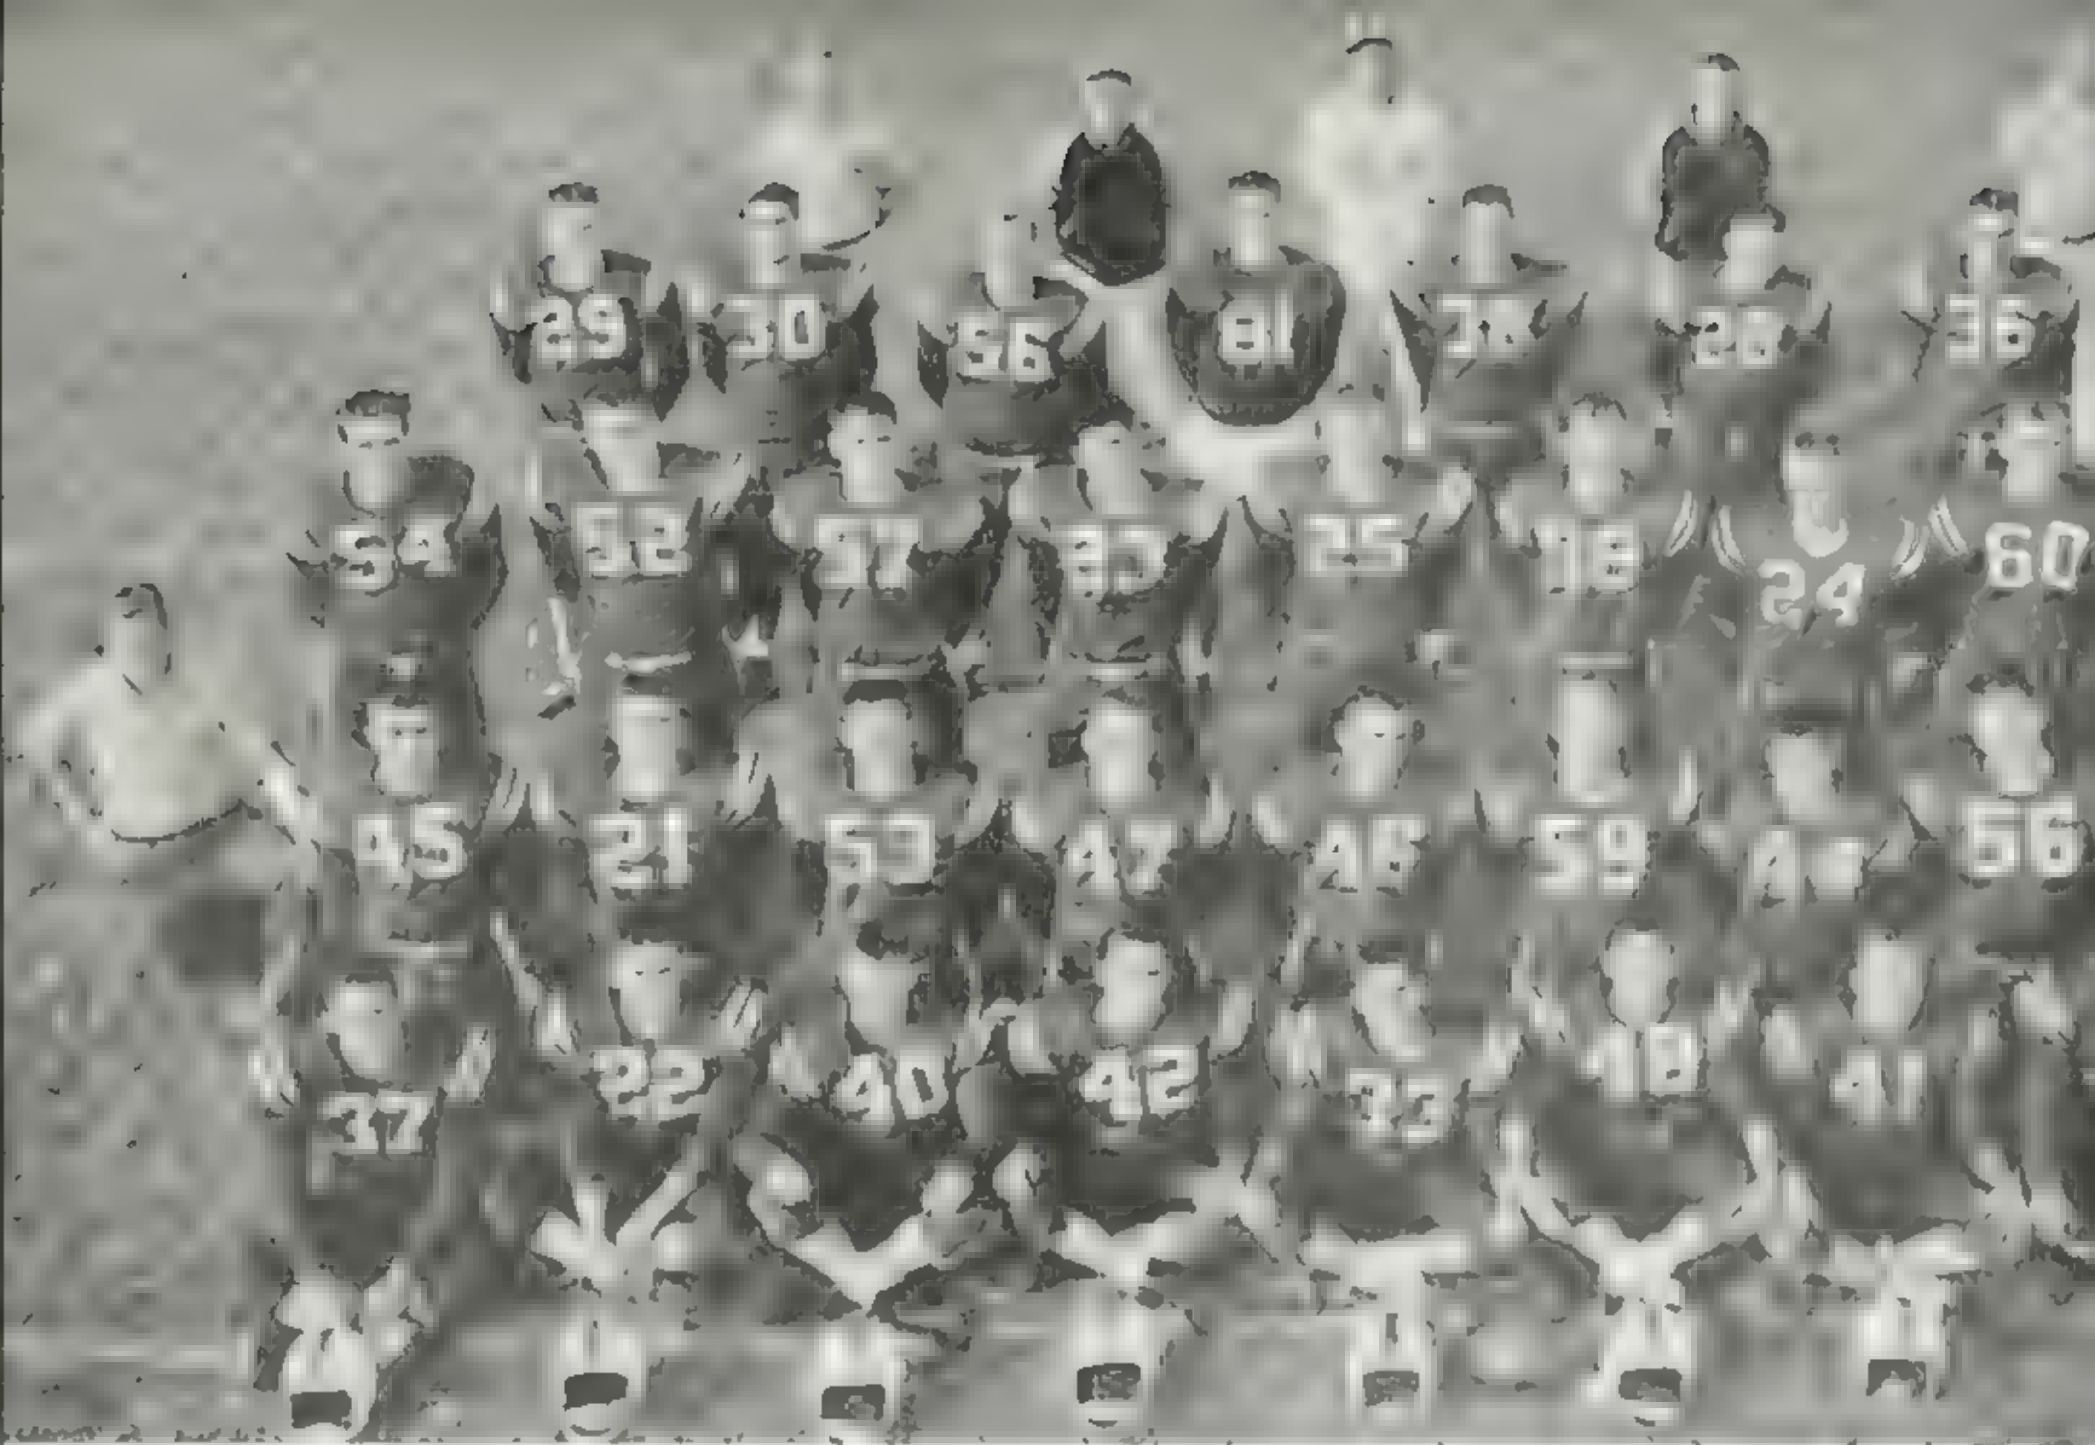

This organization works along with the Senior Honor Society in planning the Honors Banquet. At this banquet, an award is given to the outstanding junior boy and girl. This is one of the most outstanding highlights during the year for both the Junior and Senior Honor Societies.

Athletics

Every part of our school life adds its share to THE DREAM. School sports are no exception. Cheering for the team and idolizing the football hero all add some part to its fulfillment. In this small modern world teamwork and sportsmanship are essential to life itself. School sports are the beginnings of these ideas put on a small scale which will enlarge as we grow into maturity.

Mustangs Finish

VARSITY FOOTBALL Realizing their tremendous potential and gaining confidence in their ability, the Mustangs upset predictions and raised expectations in the last two games of the season. This string finish revealed the true capacity of the Fighting Mustang, whose prevalent competitive spirit never faded through the dark moments of previous struggles.

In the opening game of the season, the Mustangs were defeated by the powerful Austin varsity which went on to win the City Championship. No humiliation was suffered from the 31-13 loss.

The Mustangs were edged 4-13 by Waukegan in their first Suburban League game. A failure to convert for the extra point and two Waukegan interceptions led to the ultimate defeat.

In the next game, a well coordinated Proviso backfield was the decisive factor in the Pirates 21-3 win. A recalled touchdown in the third quarter also played an important part in Morton's downfall.

Against New Trier, Morton suffered its fourth loss of the season, succumbing to a three touchdown rally in the last quarter of play. This made the final score 25-13 favoring the Indians.

A steel tight defense, reinforced by the keyed up homecoming atmosphere which prevailed, were the main reasons why the Mustangs held the powerful Evanston Wildcats to a 7-7 tie. Supplying the heroes were George Novak, Joe Albanese, and Art Siml.

SOPH FOOTBALL . . . The strongest Pony team in Marton history embarked on a successful undefeated season crushing all eight of the stubborn opponents. A comparable record has not been achieved since 1929.

Opening the season with a 57-6 nonconference victory over the Astoria Pirates, the Ponies blasted on to win after a 43-0 half-time lead.

Rick J. Walker, with the treble, is running a tack, the first Sopho leaders rounded again to a 43-7 win in the opening Suburban League tilt.

The Pirates also proved to be no match for the Ponies as they were dropped 46-0.

Catching fire late in the fourth quarter with a touchdown, the Ponies rallied to a 20-14 decision over New Trier in one of the hardest fought games of the season.

In their fifth straight victory this season, the Sophs trounced Niles 33-0.

On the short end of a 12-0 score at half time because of fumbles, the Ponies retaliated with fifteen points in the third quarter edging Evanston 15-12.

Against Highland Park, the Sophs repeated their strong performance by defeating the Little Giants 28-6.

A 6-0 victory over Oak Park in the seasons finale clinched the Suburban League title for the Ponies.

Army Vesely, Pete Salerno, Pat Calahan, and Keith Michael made up the backfield for this outstanding Frosh-Soph team.

VARSITY AND SOPHOMORE CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

Opening the season on the Morton field, Coach O. Kadrnovsky's Harriers looked very impressive in beating Waukegan 20-44, the low score winning. However, their luck soon changed. In the Morton Cross Country Team dropped five meets in a row to Riverside-Brookfield, Proviso, New Trier, Niles, and Evanston.

The regular schedule was interrupted by the Bloomington-Turner meet in which Morton placed fifteenth, one of the state's top teams. In the Southern League meet at Evanston, Morton placed sixth. Captain Ed Sawdo, the first Morton runner to finish twelfth in the meet, was awarded a bronze medal.

Winding up the season with a 25-30 loss to Oak Park, the Varsity turned in a 1-6 season record. The outstanding varsity runner was Senior Ed Sawdo, who finished first for Morton in every meet. Other standouts were Wolf, Nester, Alexejun, Hajek, Niver and Jacobs.

Under the leadership of Coach Jim Vopicka, the sophomore Harriers turned in a 3-4 season record.

SOCCER Considered by many to be state champions because of no downstate competition, Morton's soccer team this year had a spectacular 7-0-1 record.

Paced by the scoring talents of Walter Hirsekorn, Victor Palciauskas, and John Zukauskas, the booters easily defeated Elmwood Park and the University of Chicago High School by scores of 11-0, 7-0, 6-1, and 7-0.

The true test of strength came in the three contests against the rugged Oak Park team, when the Morton soccer men proved themselves as champions by tying the first game 2-2 and proceeding to win the next two 6-2 and 3-2 respectively.

Walter Hirsekorn scored most of the points this season with an impressive total of 27. This broke an individual scoring record of 20 points set twenty-one years ago.

Coach Jahelka has a right to be proud of his 58-59 soccer team.

VARSITY TRACK

The varsity track squad this season turned in a mediocre record ending up fifth in the Suburban League. Although with outstanding hurdlers Mike Piotrowski and Bob Prawdzik, and tremendous sprinters Larry Stepenski and Rich Tomek, the Mustangs failed to turn in a winning season due to the great amount of competition in the league. New Trier, Oak Park, and Evanston all finished ahead of Morton and were ranked among the first five in the state.

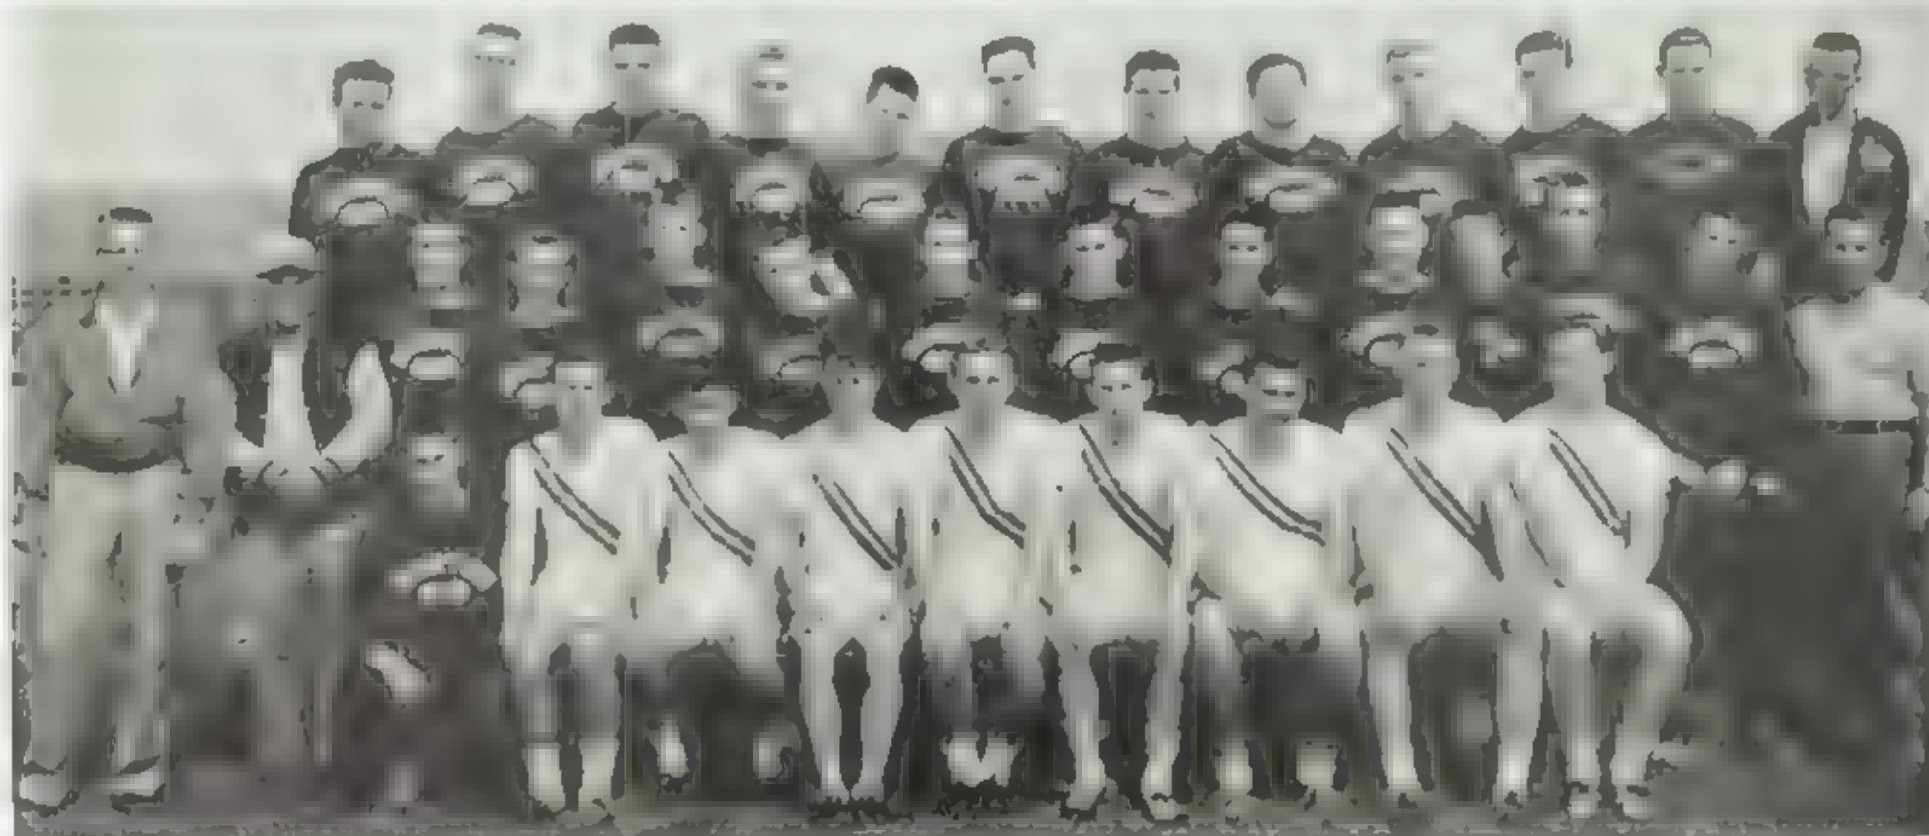

Of the three qualifiers sent downstate, Mike Piotrowski came up with the only creditable performance placing fourth in the low hurdles. Prospects for next year are said to be good with a new field house and strong sophomore talent graduating to varsity standing.

A second place in the Oak Park relays was the beginning of a five-meet winning streak for the Sophs, losing only to the strong Oak Park squad. Standouts like hurdler, Owen Arnold and sprinter Hank Carstensen were the backbone for the underclassmen, who show potential for next year's squad.

Another new project was selling foam rubber cushion pillows at the Members of the "M" Club . . . this year's valentine dance, "Magic Moments." Highlighting the affair was the crowning of a queen, Lois Hanzel, selected by the members from a bevy of beautiful candidates.

Other events planned and sponsored by the "M" Club are "M" assemblies at which all athletic awards are presented and an annual play-night open to all classes. BASEBALL . . . After winning the first four non-league games, the Mustangs dropped the Suburban League opener to Niles by a score of 4-3, getting only three hits. Losing to Evanston in the first game of a double-header, Morton came back in the second contest to win 5-3. Ron Reihel came through with a clutch hit in the seventh inning to drive in the tiebreaking run.

Against the Proviso Pirates, Jim Hora was the key factor in their defeat by allowing only six hits and walking one. In the double-header with Highland Park, the Mustangs were hampered by cold and windy weather; but this didn't stop Dick Wilen and Frank Fencel as their hitting led the Mustangs on to twin victories.

Following a 3-1 loss to Oak Park's two-hit pitching, the Mustangs went on to split a double-header with New Trier. After a bad loss in the first game, Morton came back to trounce the Indians 12-0. Scoring 20 hits in two games, Morton's diamondmen won the opener in the Waukegan double-header 17-9, but lost the nightcap 11-7. Proviso was just a little too much for the Mustangs, as they held them to four hits in winning 5-0. The final Suburban League game resulted in an 11-2 loss to Oak Park, the League champs. After winning the Riverside district baseball tournament, the Mustangs were knocked out of state tourney play by Niles, 5-1.

Morton's varsity ended the season with an overall 12-9 record. Finishing sixth in the Suburban League with a 6-8 record, the Mustangs hit .250 as a team and had a .886 fielding average. Dick Wilen's tremendous hitting, Gene Dawson's hurling, and Ron Reihel's all around play were the biggest surprises of the year.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

The freshman squad, under the leadership of Coach J. D. Caproni, captured the Suburban Crown in a 5-0 victory over the defending champion, the Lake Forest team. The team was well ahead of all opposition with a 9-0 record, finishing by a 3-0 margin. Vast experience was gained as the freshman team played as a team, getting 1 hit in 3.0 innings. The opponents were not so lucky in the contest. Outstanding pitching performances were given by E. Gora, K. and Larry Mack, leading the pitching staff with 4.0 and 12.0 innings pitched. Strong hitting was evident in the 598 hitting average of Joe Heger, who was backed up by George J. Polich, Ron Hannon, and Wayne Reznicek. With practice and experience, the Colts could develop their potential into a strong varsity squad.

Although lacking in height, the Morton five won their second consecutive game against Proviso. Playing in top form against the Pirates, the Mustangs won 54-47.

Rick Torrek scored 32 points in a 60-56 victory over Niles. Despite the closeness of the final score, the Mustangs won easily after leading almost the entire game.

Rallying in the fourth quarter only to fall short of a tie by five points, the Mustangs then were defeated as Waukegan staged an comeback, the final score of 76-59. The varsity leaders were last played by the Suburban League Champions.

Morton's eighth defeat of the season came at the hands of the Evanston Wildcats. Superb defensive play held the Mustang scoring punch down to 38 points as Evanston tallied 45.

Highland Park came through with a 20-foot jump shot in double overtime to finish Morton's Suburban League play with a taste of defeat. This final Suburban League contest was one of the most exciting of the season. The defeat left Morton with a final Suburban League record of 5-9 and let Coach Jim Vopicka's squad into the regional tournament with an overall 7-11 mark.

Reavis was no match for the Morton five, as the Mustangs took an easy 56-38 win in first regional game. A Jurkus played his best game of the season, scoring 20 points.

In the second game of the regional tournament, the Mustangs used a pressing defense and controlled the backboards, breezing past Argo 62-44.

Morton was knocked out of tournament play in the regional final by the final Hinsdale Red Devils. Although badly outshot, the Mustangs put up a terrific fight in losing 54-49.

inaugurating the new gym at Morton West, the Mustangs opened the season by downing the LaGrange Lions 66-60. Rick Tomsek paced the varsity raggers, who hit a 47.5 shooting percentage from the floor, with 29 points.

Overcoming a slow start with a 22 point second quarter, the Mustangs went on to whip York of Elmhurst 57-48 in the second non-conference tilt. The Mustangs coasted to a win during the final quarter of play after hitting six baskets in the closing two minutes of the first half and taking a solid 30-21 lead.

Thornton's superior height and a tight zone defense was a stumbling block for the varsity raggers as they suffered their first loss of the season 67-59.

Against Morton's perennial rival, the Oak Park Huskies, the Mustangs carried a 19 halftime lead, only to be defeated 72-65 by a sensational 34 point rally in the third quarter. Although leading in their Suburban League opener, Coach J. Vopicka found a starting center in 6'4" Mike Matuszak, who was the game's high scorer with 29 points.

In a losing cause against J. J. Catholic, the Mustangs displayed one of their best efforts of the season, although losing 73-60. Mike Matuszak's 29 points weren't enough against the team's 54.8 shooting percentage of the Hilltoppers.

New Trier downed Morton 74-70, hitting 40 percent from the free throw line. This was the decisive factor in Morton's fourth straight loss. The Mustangs outscored the Terrers 36-34 from the floor.

Snapping a four game losing streak, the Mustangs came from behind to defeat Proviso Pirates 61-48. Morton sunk half their shots from the floor, while Rick Tomsek took scoring minors with 27 points.

The Mustangs evened their Suburban League record at 2-2 with a comparatively easy 66-52 triumph over the Niles Trojans. Again senior forward Rick Tomsek paced the raggers with 25 points.

The Waukegan Bulldogs chewed Morton's varsity raggers with a 77-40 victory. Morton gave their worst showing of the season against the powerful Waukegan team, who later went on to state and placed fourth.

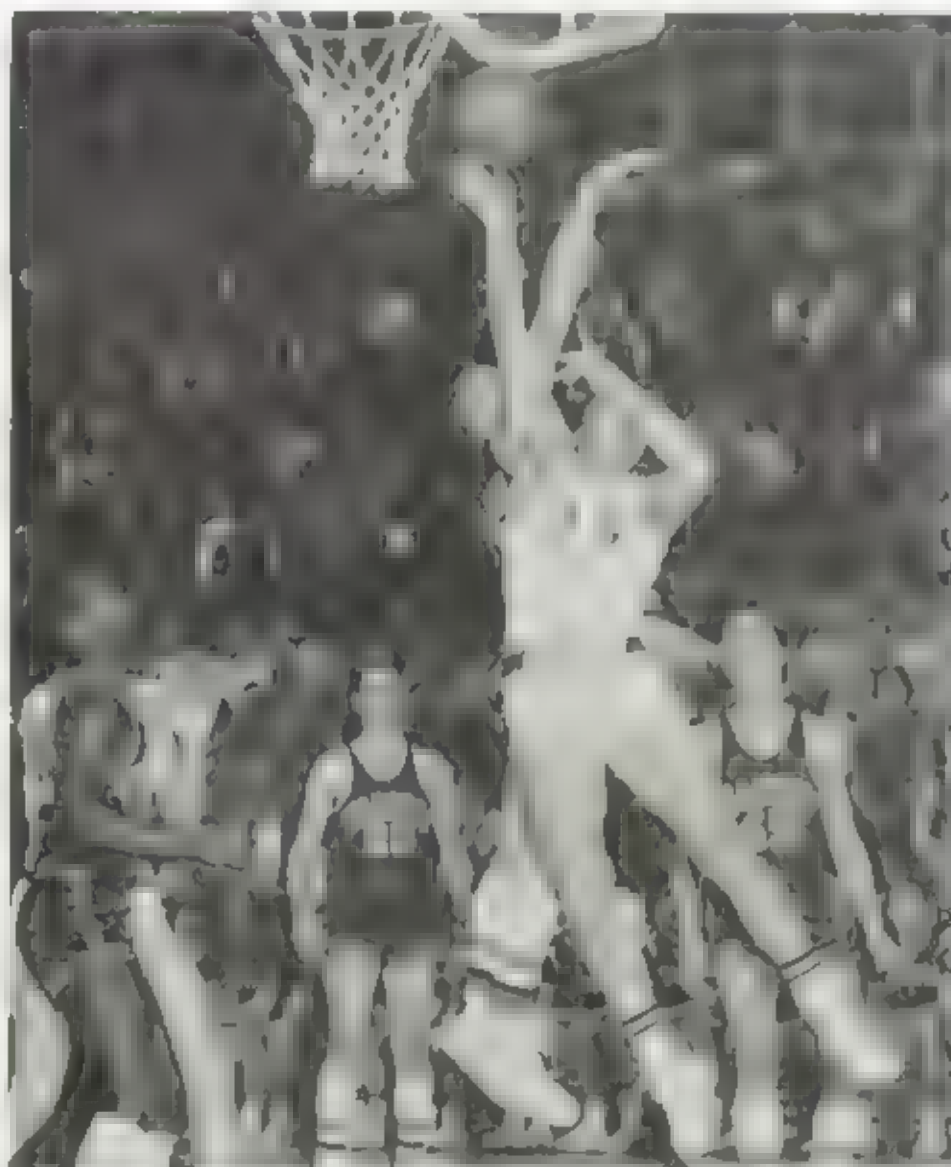

Fighting a see-saw battle throughout the entire game, the varsity five suffered a real heartbreaker when Evanston scored with only 8 seconds remaining to peek out a 44-42 win.

Highland Park's league standing improved as they beat the Mustangs 68-56. Rick Tomsek tallying 20 points. This was Morton's fifth loss against two wins in the Suburban League.

A tight press backed up by good shooting from the free throw line were all the Oak Park Huskies needed to take their second win from the Mustangs this season. Failing to gain revenge, the varsity squad was edged 53-47.

Avenging their previous defeat, the Mustangs smothered New Trier 54-28. The Terrers were anemic in their shooting as they sunk only seven shots out of fifty.

The sophomore players, coached by Mr. J. Capron, posted an overall 11-8 record and a Southern League mark of 8-6, finishing in fifth place. In non-conference play, the Ponies lost the opener to LaGrange 44-35. R. Vyleta tallied eighteen points in a losing cause.

The next two contests were thrillers, Morton edging York 33-32, and Thornton, 38-36. In a later non-league tilt, the Ponies were toppled by Joliet Catholic, 41-32.

In Southern League play, the Ponies looked quite impressive in beating Niles 47-31. Niles' scorers were held to only four points. The first half displayed a balanced scoring attack. The Ponies picked up two victories as they tumbled New Trier, 48-40, and Oak Park, 42-38.

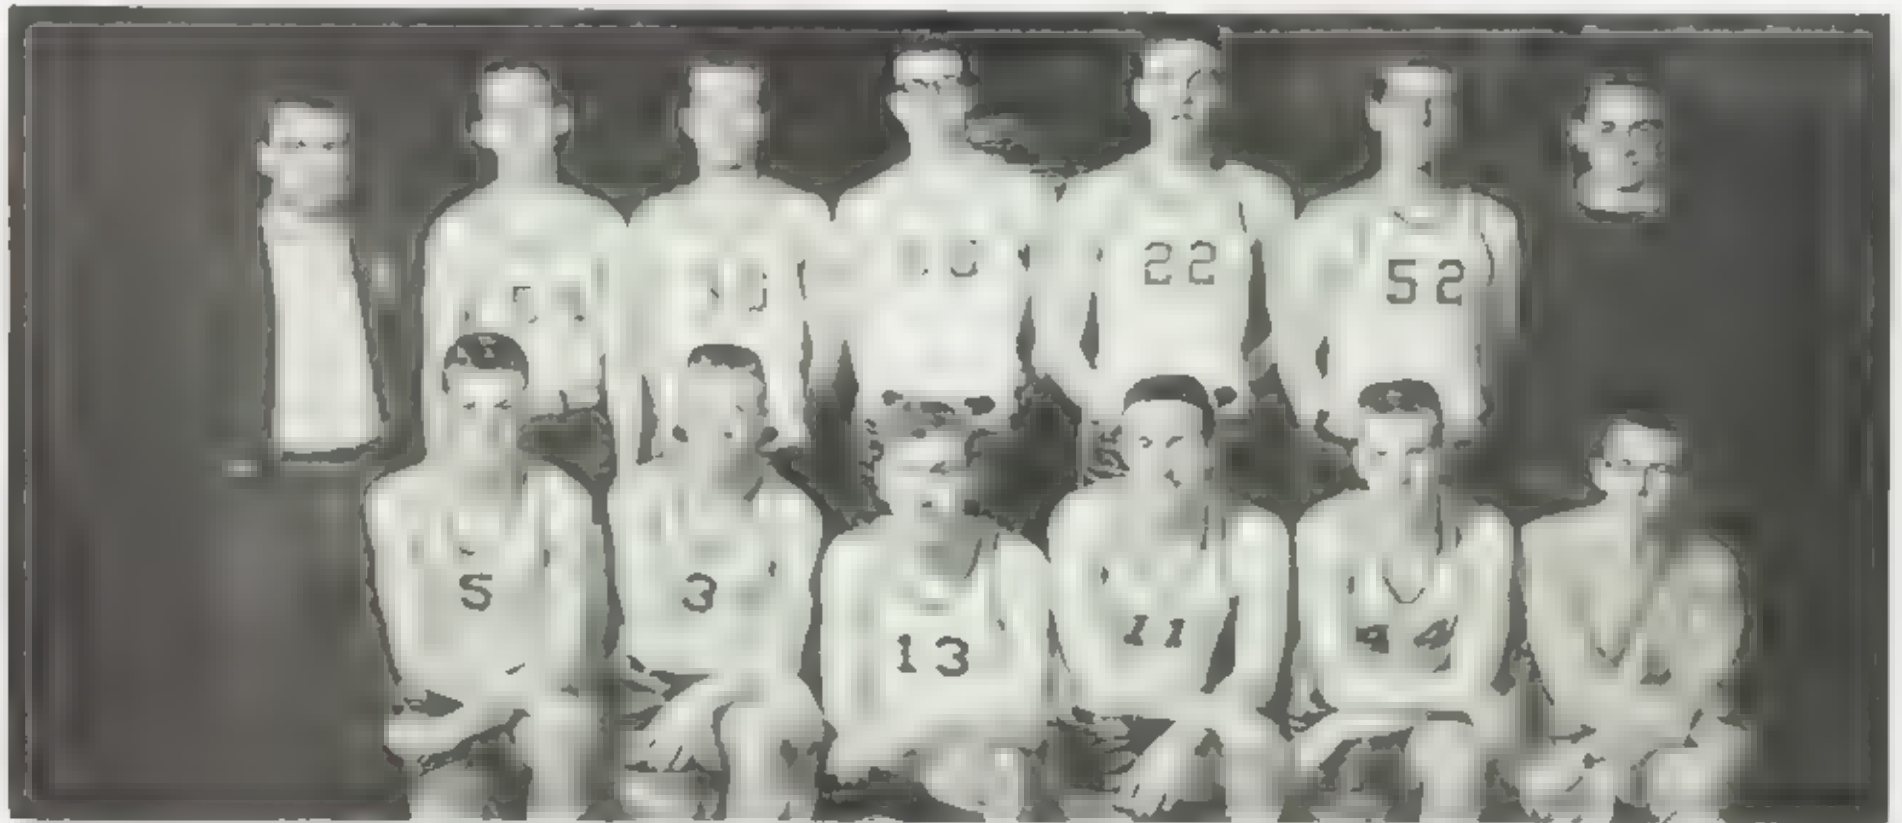

In the Waukegan game, both teams displayed a deliberate type of offense, but the Ponies were outperformed 40-32. After traveling to Highland Park 46-43, the string quintet whipped Evanston 52-25, with a slow ball control type of offense.

Joe Vlastakis led the Ponies with seventeen point effort in a 54-37 loss against Waukegan. Valuable experience was gained by all those who participated on this year's team.

J V BASKETBALL The Junior Varsity basketball team has been successful by taking first place in the St. Louis league with a 9-2 mark. In thirteen games the offense compiled a total of 79 points while the defense totaled 617. The highlight of the season came when the Junior Mustangs blasted Oak Park 84-56. The 84 points set a new scoring record. The star player in this excellent season was the 124 pound punch of Jim Sperlik, Al Bohaboy, and Ed Krasov. The graduating to the varsity squad next year should be a great asset to the Mustangs.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL Showing one of the most powerful teams in recent years, Coach S. Face's Colts posted an impressive 9-2 mark and finished a strong second in the Suburban League. Their excellent offense and defense — scoring 750 points against their opponents 542 — gave them an overall 13-2 record. The leading scorer was Dennis Boone, who was followed by Jim Vopicka and Don Cervenka. This team should give excellent material to future Morton basketball teams.

TENNIS . . . Morton's tennis team this year had a disastrous season, winning only two meets of the ten played.

Spring Branch lost Rivers to Brookfield the victory was 3-2. This seemed to spark the Mustangs as they scored a leaden 5-0 in the following game. The taste of victory was short lived however as Morton went down in defeat by the Wildcats scores of 5-0 at the hands of Evanston and New Coming back strong, the racketeers downed Elmwood Park 4-1. This could have been the beginning of a winning streak, but the next five meets were catastrophes. Not being able to score a point, the Mustangs fell before Hill and Park, Proviso, Oak Park, Nev. Trier and Waukegan by the humble scores of 5-0. They made the final record 2-8.

Good form and co-ordination are exhibited in this backhand shot

VARSITY . . . Hampered by the loss of nine seniors from last year's team, which had a good record and placed eleventh in the state, Coach C. L. Bond's varsity swimmers finished the season with a losing 3-10 record. The varsity team, consisting of only five seniors, placed seventh in the Suburban League meet and fourteenth in state competition. John Kastner was the only Mustang to qualify for the state meet.

GOLF . . . The best golf team in Morton's history ended their season with a 9-1-1 overall record, finishing sixth in the state. This was quite a feat considering that Morton's Suburban League record was 5-1-1 and Highland Park, New Trier, and Waukegan, all in the Suburban League also placed in the state competition.

Before going downstate however, the linksters, paced by Ernie Kolak, Pat Dorgan, and Steve Nester, walked off with their second straight district crown.

Looking back over the season, the Mustangs started off sensationally, winning their first five contests. Included in these defeats was Highland Park, second in the state. The Mustangs then proceeded to lose to New Trier and tie Waukegan, constituting their only loss and tie of the season. Winning the next five games easily, the varsity golf squad came through with their final 9-1-1 mark.

Good Sportsmanship and Practice

Through participation in such sports as swimming, tumbling, basketball, creative dancing, social dancing, and many others, a girl masters the art of good sportsmanship and skill.

GIRLS' P.E. DEPARTMENT

Sports have always been an integral part of education because they not only develop one's athletic proficiency but instill in a person the qualities of good sportsmanship, honesty, and self-discipline. Realizing this, the Girls' Physical Education department has planned its athletic program. When a girl enters the physical education department in her freshman year, she is taught the basic fundamentals of soccer, softball, basketball, volleyball, and baseball. Once a week she has swimming in the pool, and at this time various strokes and dives are taught. Swimming is very important since a girl must receive her beginner's swim card in order to graduate from Morton. Dancing is taught in the foyer once a week, and this facet of physical education develops grace and rhythm. During her freshman year a girl will learn folk dances of various countries. Later she will participate in social dancing. Boys from the various athletic teams are recruited as partners. Exercises are taught to help improve posture and correct figure faults. Precision marching is also taught once a week in the foyer and is an important part of the course. The fundamentals of first aid, home nursing, and急救 are not neglected for a girl will receive training in these courses during her four years at Morton. In her sophomore year a girl may be recommended for a special gym class such as leadership, creative dancing, tumbling, or lifesaving. In order to be recommended for such a class a girl must be passing in all majors, be able to possess the beginner's swim card, and possess the athletic proficiency needed for such a course. A girl may further develop her athletic proficiency by joining one of the many clubs sponsored by the P. E. department, such as G.A.A., Intramural, Cheerleading, Creative Dance, and Tumbling. The big project which is sponsored annually by the girls' P. E. department is the Physical Education show. At this show various demonstrations of athletic prowess are shown, and each gym class competes to present its best. Also a trophy is awarded to the girl who has perfect posture and this is a highlight of the show. It is important to realize that both the girls' and boys' physical education departments contribute their talents to this show. Thus at the end of her four years of physical education a girl has learned concepts which have helped to mature her socially as well as physically.

Leads to Enthusiasm and Skill

GIRLS' "M" CLUB . . . A girl dressed in a blouse and skirt of clashing plaids, armed with swim fins and baseball bat was seen walking through the halls of Morton. However, her presence was the cause of amusement, not of alarm, for she was an "M" Club initiate. Every year initiates for this club are required to go through certain rituals in order to gain admission to the Girls' "M" Club. The initiate must also possess 1000 points earned in intramurals, have a beginners swim card, swim four lengths of the pool, earn an 85 in gym, and pass the TB test. The members of this club sponsor intramurals whereby a girl can earn the points which will enable her to gain her "M" and become eligible for initiation. This year tournaments were conducted in basketball, volleyball, and softball. These tournaments were conducted by the physical education classes. The main purpose of this club is to promote good sportsmanship and good health, qualities which will be helpful in later life. This club's advisor is Miss D. Wendt.

These active members have been ably led by Presidents Barbara Odenbach, East and Bea Hellerman, West.

CHEERLEADERS . . . During the various basketball, football, and baseball games ten girls dressed in bright red and white outfits lead the various cheers. These are the cheerleaders. To qualify for a position on the squad, a girl must possess coordination, acrobatic skill, a strong pair of lungs, and boundless enthusiasm. She must also attain a high scholastic average and must embody the qualities of good sportsmanship that a cheerleader stands for. Tryouts are held in the girls gym, and among the skills a girl must possess are the ability to execute successfully a back kick, a split, and a cartwheel. After a series of eliminations, members of the squad for the coming year are chosen. The chosen girls practice old cheers and develop new ones, and they also work to develop their various skills such as roundoffs. The girls also receive points for attending games and practice sessions which will help them to attain their "M". After attaining an "M", a girl can accumulate more points which help her to earn the second award, a star. The "M" is worn on the front of the heavy wool sweater which is a part of a cheerleader's outfit, and the stars are worn on the left sleeve. The advisor of this year's squad is Miss M. H. Flanders.

G. A. A. . . . Mardi Gras was the name of this year's sock hop, one of the many activities sponsored by this active club. The letters G. A. A. stand for the Girls Athletic Association. This club seeks to promote interest and participation in girls sports through a varied athletic program. Once a week on Tuesday, during seventh hour, the girls join G. A. A. in its various activities. Soccer, speedball, basketball, volleyball and baseball are played throughout the year, and through participation in these sports points may be accumulated towards the awards. Swimming is held seventh hour Mondays in the pool, and bowling is held at the Palace Bowl on Ailey Saturdays. Points are also given in these sports. The various sports are held at eight week intervals, and 24 points are given per interval. In order to receive points a girl may not be absent more than three times during the various sports seasons. The big activity of the club, however, is its annual Sock Hop. This dance is a fun affair and is eagerly looked forward to by Mortorites. It is open to all students. Various publicity about the dance is distributed throughout the school. At the dance prizes are given for socks which are the most original and for those which best typify the theme of the dance. The gym is also open at this time and anyone can play volleyball, the fires of dancing.

Through participating in such sports as baseball, a girl may earn the points which will enable her to receive her "M."

The G.A.A. sponsors a float in the Homecoming parade which is built by the club's members. An annual trip to the Indiana Dunes and also a trip to Fullersburg is held. At the end of the year a banquet is held at a local restaurant. At this time the new officers of the club for the coming year are invested in their respective offices in an impressive ceremony. At this time new members are initiated into the club in a candlelight ceremony, and they receive the G.A.A. pin, which is a replica of the map of Illinois in miniature in blue and white. After this ceremony, awards are given out. The various awards which this club offers are the numerals, the "M", the "I", and the Map. The last two awards are given by the state of Illinois. During the school year many playdays are held at Morton. These playdays seek to encourage interest in sports and volleyball, basketball, and other sports are offered. Refreshments are served, and girls from other schools are invited. On these playdays, likewise girls from Morton are often invited to playdays that are held at other schools. Through their many and varied activities G.A.A. is able to maintain its purpose which is to promote interest and participation in physical education and recreation activities. The advisors are Mrs. M. E. Decker, West, and Mrs. Chamberlain, East.

CREATIVE DANCE . . . From Here To There was the title of this year's annual Creative Dance show. This show has become a tradition with Mortonites and is eagerly looked forward to every year. Girls who are interested in developing grace, poise, and proper body alignment may join this club. Better known to its members as Orchesis, it is divided into two groups, the beginners and the "pros". The purpose of Orchesis is to give those interested in modern dancing further knowledge in it and the opportunity to create dances of their own. Orchesis also co-operates with other departments for shows, assemblies, and other activities. In Orchesis a girl has the opportunity to develop her individual talents. A girl must possess a sense of rhythm and timing in order to be recommended to this popular club. Creative dancing induces rhythmic organization and individuality. The dancers seek to express emotions through movements in their dances. One of the major projects which a girl must participate in is the creation of an individual dance which she then performs for her fellow members. In the club the girls are taught in intermediate and elementary rhythms, body orientation and mechanics and contemporary dance. In previous years creative dancers have attended dance symposiums at which primitive and jazz dance techniques were taught. These various techniques have now been imparted to the students and are a definite part of the course. The usual uniform for these students is a leotard. Leotards come in a variety of styles and colors and make it a colorful one.

Various emotions and ideas are expressed through body movement, as these girls demonstrate

The image consists of two black and white photographs of a group of young women, likely a swim team, posing outdoors. In the top photograph, the women are standing in a line, wearing dark one-piece swimsuits. They are holding long, light-colored poles or sticks, possibly for a team-building exercise or a performance. The background is a dense, leafy area. In the bottom photograph, the women are sitting on the ground in a circle, also wearing dark one-piece swimsuits. They are holding the same long, light-colored poles or sticks, which are now resting on the ground. The background is a dense, leafy area.

LEADERSHIP . . . Line Foul! resounds from girls' gym almost every period as a leader is refereeing a volleyball game. These "girls in white" also take class attendance, demonstrate skills, and aid in the swimming pool. In order for a girl to be recommended to a leadership class she must possess a 90 average in gym, be passing in all major subjects, have a beginner's swim card, and possess a pleasing personality, good posture, rhythm, and grace, possess leadership qualities, and have proficiency in all major athletic girls' sports. When a girl is a member of a leadership class, she wears blue shorts, white blouse, and possesses a whistle. She is encouraged to take over the class and is often called upon to demonstrate athletic skills and exercises. She is aided in the refereeing of games by rule-books which she purchases from the teacher. These books contain diagrams which illustrate various techniques, and they are accompanied by a set of hand signals which every leader is urged to learn. A leader also must learn the fundamentals of driving, home nursing, and first aid. She must be versed in a few folk dances as these are taught to students in the foyer once a week. She must be prepared to teach a girls' gym class if the teacher is ill. Upon completing the leadership course a girl is assigned to a gym class by her leadership teacher. The class as a whole receives an award at the end of their year of training. This award may be an "M", or an "L", or a shield. The girls decide on the type of award which they would like, and they also decide such things as its color and size. These awards are worn proudly by the girls who have earned them. Many persons believe that a girl must be a superior athlete to qualify for leadership. This is not necessarily true; a girl must possess athletic proficiency to certain degree, but she must also stand for sportsmanship. A leader is often asked to referee and score at various tournaments which are being given by various girls' athletic clubs at Morton. A leader is also asked to aid in the swimming pool along with the girls who are lifeguards. Also a girl may participate in the leadership program in either her sophomore or junior years. At the P. E. demonstration the leadership classes usually perform precision marching or co-ordinated exercises, and they are a very popular group on the program. Thus the leaders seek to put what they have learned to good use through their work in the P. E. department, and their demonstrations at the P. E. Show.

Editor's Note

Life is a chain of experiences, each one inspiring its own ambitions, dreams. Life — a branch school to build, games to win, students to teach, tests to pass — Life is the dream, a dream the restless soul never stops living, a dream that has no end. For those twenty-three students who worked to compile this edition of the MORTONIAN ANNUAL, a special dream has been accomplished

Their hope is that they have succeeded in bringing to you a year-book unique to Morton, one in which you will have the deepest pride. Their job was a hard one, for publishing a book on the scale of Morton's has never been an easy task. The opening of the new west branch left them without precedence and new problems with which to deal, thereby facilitating the setting of altogether new standards. They have met these standards now visible before you in the 1959 MORTONIAN, but they could not have done so without the co-operation and assistance of several major contributors.

For the staff, I express special thanks to the assistant superintendent, Dr. Walter L. Cooper, for his valuable advice and unselfish dedication. Exemplary of the artifice of Gibson Studios is the distinctive photography and fine quality found throughout this book. This superb pictorial coverage of Morton and its students should be accredited to Mr. Joseph Guido and Mr. Wayne Dickenson, Gibson Studio photographers and the counsel of Mr. Joseph Gessner, president of Gibson's. I cannot close without expressing the staff's sincere gratitude to Mr. Leander Hagerty of the Leander Publishing Company and to his representative, Mr. Brian O'Rourke for professional advice in instances of difficult decisions. To Mr. Truman D. Fox, former ANNUAL advisor, our thanks for the many annuals of the past years, which gave us a foundation for our edition. Finally, we would like to thank Mr. Robert J. Tudor, our advisor, not only for the many happy experiences we found this year, but for the warm friendship that is peculiarly his which he has shared with us all. To all of these people, Thank You.

Whatever your ambitions and dreams are at this moment, some may and some may not come true. But, remember, a dream can never die. To the owner of this book I say; read it, enjoy it, it's yours.
